

KARTIK AARYAN HIDES!!!

It is almost a clear fact that chocolate boy, Kartik Aaryan and actor Ananya Panday are the latest couple in B-town. The pair is often spotted at dinner and movie outings. Surprisingly though this time Kartik hid his face with a pillow while the paparazzi was trying to take a snap. Now whether it was an indication that he does not want his reported relationship to get confirmed and dishearten

Sara Ali Khan, we do not know. While we are not entirely sure about that, all we know for now is he wanted to cover his look from the upcoming movie Pati Patni Aur Woh in which he shares the screen space with Ananya Panday and Bhumi Pednekar.

The former Victoria Secret Angel, Gisele Bündchen has opened up about the pain of splitting with Oscar-winning actor Leonardo DiCaprio. In a recent interview she talked about turning to cigarettes and alcohol to numb herself following her split in 2005. She also spoke about the romance she shared with him and how difficult it was for her to separate after 5 years of dating. However, the Brazilian model is now happily married to NFL star Tom Brady, and shares two children, Benjamin(9), and Vivian(6). Meanwhile, the casanova continued his dating life with a bevy of catwalk queens since, and is now in a relationship with model and actor Camila Morrone, 21.

Ring Spotted!

Oscar winning star, Jennifer Lawrence broke millions of hearts recently by flaunting a sparkly ring on her ring finger while at a dinner date in New York. The Red Sparrow star lately got engaged to her boyfriend Cooke Maroney, an art gallery director, after just over eight months of dating. Previously she dated Darren Aronofsky, the 49-year-old Mother! director, which only lasted just over a year.

Jennifer and Cooke began dating in June last year, after being introduced by Lawrence's friend Laura Simpson. The couple has always been so into each other that the shutterbugs never failed to capture their great chemistry.

According to the actor's publicist, we may see her walking down the aisle soon.
