LADY GAGA Single Again

After many rumours and speculations from fans, it has finally been confirmed that Lady Gaga is once again single. The couple had been together for two years, but rumours sparked about problems in their relationship after Lady Gaga was spotted without her engagement ring at the Grammy Awards. Moreover, despite it being a really big night for her, fiancé

Christian was nowhere to be seen. Even though Lady Gaga cleared the air by saying that she had not worn the ring due to her performance that evening, it turns out, there was more to the story. ## KYLIE BETRAYED BY BFF

Khloé Kardashian and Tristan Thompson's relationship status has been under question after the latter had been caught cheating on Khloé with another woman. Recent reports claim that Tristan has yet to correct his ways, as he has allegedly become quite close to Kylie's childhood best friend, Jordyn Woods. The model had reportedly spent a night partying at his house, where they ended up talking and flirting all night long. Whilst many had expected Tristan to do something like this, people were shocked to see Jordyn betray her friend. The Kardashian family is reportedly cutting off all ties with Jordyn and Khloé is also disappointed in her, given that she had been quite close to the family. Kylie, however, is in distress and was quite unsure on how to handle the situation, as they had been friends for over a decade. However, fans are speculating that the two friends will part ways as Kylie is quite close to her family, and is unlikely to stir up drama by supporting her friend's actions.
