Graft plagues civil aviation

Finds ACC probe into the sector

MAHBUBUR RAHMAN KHAN and RASHIDUL HASAN

Biman high-ups, including some of its board members, have been misappropriating huge money through irregularities in tender process. On the other hand, some officials of CAAB, the aviation regulator, accept bribes from contractors, who are "looting money" by building poor-quality towers and boarding bridges, the Anti-Corruption Commission has found.

Its enquiry report did not name anyone, but the probe detected corruption in eight sectors at the Biman and 11 sectors at the Civil Aviation Authority of Bangladesh (CAAB).

The separate enquiries, which began in March 2017, into the conducts of the national flag carrier and the aviation regulator are based on interviews of current and retired officials, analysis of annual and audit reports, statements of victims and media reports.

ACC Commissioner Mozammel Haque Khan handed over the enquiry reports to Mahbub Ali, state minister for civil aviation and tourism, at the latter's office yesterday, said ACC Public Relations Officer Pranab Kumar Bhattacharya.

In case of purchase and lease of aircraft, some intermediary firms work as liaison between the service providers and the Biman high-ups as well as its board members, the ACC has found.

"Spending huge money, these companies make officials fix the specification of [aircraft] procurement in a way so

Wife claims police picked up her husband; cops deny

OUR CORRESPONDENT,
Thakurgaon

A woman yesterday claimed that her husband has been traceless since Saturday night, two days after he was taken to Thakurgaon Police Station.

Anju Pervin told a press conference at Thakurgaon Press Club that her husband Akash, 33, and his brother-in-law Hamidur Rahman, 25, went to Thakurgaon town to appear before a court for the hearing of a drugs case on Thursday.

Both of them were detained by police from different places in the town following the hearing, she said.

On Friday, Akash's younger brother Jahedul Islam met with both of them at Thakurgaon Police Station. Jahedul's friends Rafique and Ekramul were with him at the time, she said.

On Saturday, Anju's two children Atik and Alo went to the police station with their uncle Jahedul but couldn't find their father.

Police told them that they didn't know about Akash.

Hamidur informed Jahedul that police took

Some fight, but still defeated

SPORTS REPORTER

There was some of the fight, and a high-quality one at that, that supporters would have wanted to see from Bangladesh but it came too late to have any impact on the outcome in the first Test against New Zealand in Hamilton yesterday.

Stand-in skipper Mahmudullah Riyad and Soumya Sarkar hit centuries in a 235-run fifth wicket stand that raised hopes of wiping out the mammoth 481-run deficit, but after the latter's dismissal, the last five wickets fell for just 68 runs as the hosts wrapped up an innings-and-52-run win just after tea on the fourth day.

Bangladesh were all out for a respectable 429 runs in the second innings, but the match was really lost on the first day when, despite a brilliant Tamim Iqbal ton on a flat batting track, the tourists were all out for 234 and then let New Zealand run up their highest Test total of 715 for six over the next two days.

Soumya and Mahmudullah resumed the fourth day with Bangladesh on 174 for four and the stand already worth 48
