

INTERN OF THE YEAR

I remember doing an internship at a radio company.

It was part of a "summer internship programme" organised by my school. A few selected students could choose an industry and they'd be referred to relevant companies for a month-long programme—basically a scheme to make sure we didn't waste our vacations away. My top choice was a multinational organisation, but as fate (or my school) would have it, a media company was chosen for me.

Now I know many think internships are hard and the interns work their behinds off in different departments for little to no remuneration; often times the remuneration being a generic-formatted recommendation letter from the supervisor. I used to be one of the first ones to show up at work, and even took work home. Initially stationed with the marketing team, I ended up working with production, human resources, and even a few shining minutes as an "Outdoor Broadcaster".

Totally irrelevant to my line of academia, and somewhat related to what I do now, I regard my one month as an intern to be one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. I met a bunch of great people, did a lot of creative work but most importantly for a young person, learned first-hand about the professional settings at work.

Best part: the free food and listening to music 24/7. Can't beat that.

THIS WEEK'S HORRORSCOPE

ARIES

Some of us know what to eat for breakfast.

TAURUS

Others don't know what to eat for lunch.

GEMINI

Making a mountain out of ice-cream cones is risky business.

CANCER

Enough is enough, you need to finish your dessert.

LEO

Hunches cannot be your best guesses.

VIRGO

Unless you know exactly what you want to know, don't ask.

LIBRA

Not going to your own birthday party won't make you a better host.

SCORPIO

Dumb people will always seem smart to a lizard.

SAGITTARIUS

Reading books is cool, as long as you don't claim you wrote them.

CAPRICORN

Elaborate balloon arches are not for everyone.

AQUARIUS

Despite your obvious desires to fail, you must succeed.

PISCES

So you think you can grow a beard? Then go right ahead.

APP REVIEW

KEEP YOUR PHONE ADDICTION IN CHECK

FAISAL BIN IQBAL

Platform: Android

Your Hour is an app that can monitor the amount of time you spend on your phone. The app requests access to your app usage data and once granted, it works out the time you spend on each app. You can select the apps for which you want to be monitored. Your Hour will then track your activities on those apps and present it to you on a dashboard. The app can also calculate the amount of time you spend on your phone each day and how many times a day you unlock your phone. It has a simple and sleek UI with a user friendly dashboard that provides you the necessary information visually. You can set up goals and take on challenges to see how you are doing with your phone addiction. The app is a must try if you feel like you're addicted to your phone.
