Sabnam Faria in a new TVC

Sabnam Faria recently featured in a new TVC, after quite a long time. The advertisement, promoting children's commodities, has been created by Piplu R Khan. Regarding the commercial, Sabnam said, "I have been quite busy with acting, but the commercial has a unique story, which drew me to work on it. It is quite common for mothers to make sacrifices for the well-being of the family. They often don't get to pursue their careers because of this. However, if the whole family supports the mother, she wouldn't have to face such difficulties in raising the children. The commercial aims to bring more attention to this everyday problem, and I hope that I have been able to portray this on screen accurately."
