

The queen's

NEW DRAMA

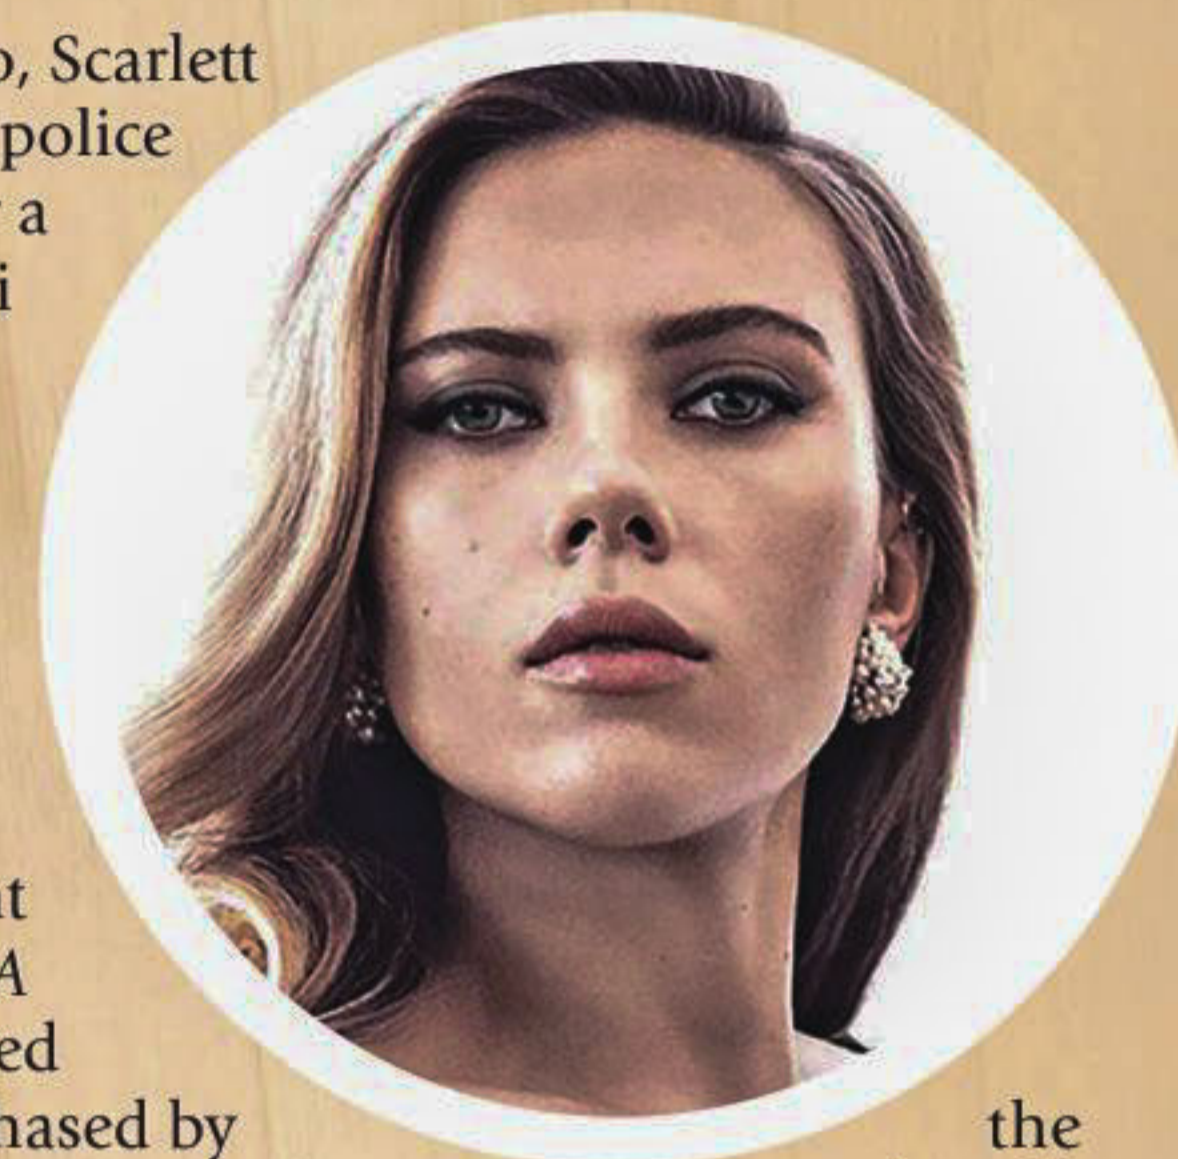

Queen star, Kangana Ranaut is all set to work on her next directorial venture, an epic action drama! This was revealed by the drama queen herself in a recent interview. According to Ranaut, the movie is going to be based on a real-life story, like her previous film, Manikarnika. The actor-turned-director further added that the script of her yet untitled film has been locked, and will soon be followed by a photoshoot, after which, the posters for the film will be released. The actor is currently shooting for Panga in New Delhi. She has also been roped in to play the character of former Tamil Nadu Chief Minister and actor Jayalalitha, in a new biopic. The bilingual venture has been titled, Jaya in Hindi and Thalaivi in Tamil. The biopic is going to be directed by A.L. Vijay. The veteran actor-turned-politician was an iconic personality in Indian politics, and served five terms in office as Chief Minister of the southern state till her demise in December, 2016.

Source: Internet

SCARLETT SCARED!

Silver-screen superhero, Scarlett Johansson landed in a police station recently, after a "dangerous paparazzi chase". The incident happened after the Black Widow appeared on a talk show, along with some of her co-stars. Los Angeles Police Department confirmed the incident saying that the BAFTA winning actor, alleged that she was being chased by paparazzi on her way back after the talk show, "in a dangerous fashion."

As a result, the Avengers star got a scare, and had to stop at the Hollywood station to report the incident. Johansson however, did not file a report. Avengers: Endgame is set to hit the theatres on April 26, this year. This is expected to be the last installment of Marvel's 22-film generation which includes, Spider-Man and Iron Man.

Source: Internet

GEORGE CLOONEY'S

First-look deal with 'MGM'

The Academy Award winning heartthrob has recently inked a new feature film production deal with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. According to the agreement, George Clooney and Grant Heslov's Smokehouse Pictures, will produce a film on the 80's automotive executive and founder of DeLorean Motor Company, John DeLorean, in collaboration with MGM. Clooney is set to direct the film, though it is not yet confirmed if he will act in the movie as well. Keith Bunin is expected to write the yet untitled film, based on a magazine article titled, "Saint John" by journalist Alex Pappademas. Clooney and Smokehouse Pictures's Heslov, in a joint statement, said, "We're thrilled to be working with Jon and all the folks over at MGM and look forward to a long successful partnership."

Source: Internet

