

Time to save the president again

The most anticipated film of this year Angel Has Fallen has recently fired up the internet with its new trailer. It is the sequel to hit action films Olympus Has Fallen and London Has Fallen. The lead character Mike Banning played by Gerard Butler will be seen as a secret service agent, yet again showing his faithfulness towards his job. In the trailer Mike Banning must save the new US President Allan Trumbull played by Morgan Freeman. We see that, Trumbull is promoting Mike to Secret Service Director. However, in a sudden turn of events, Banning is set up to look like he has attempted to assassinate the president. From the first glimpse of the movie fans can prepare themselves for an action-packed thrilling adventure where Mike is on the run, not only to prove his innocence, but also to save President Trumbull's life. The film also stars Jada Pinkett Smith, Nick Nolte, Piper Perabo and Lance Reddick. The movie is going hit the theatres on August 23, 2019.

THE SNEAKY KHANS

No matter how hard celebrities try they can never hide from the eagle eyes of the paparazzis. Recently, the three Khans of Bollywood - Salman Khan, Shah Rukh Khan and Aamir Khan - have been spotted meeting secretly to avoid the media. It has come to the media's attention that whenever the three Khans are in town they make sure to meet each other no matter how hectic their schedules are. They mostly meet at Shah Rukh's bungalow, Mannat as Aamir and Salman live very close to SRK and his residence is secluded. Sources said that, they mostly meet for casual conversations and talk about the current trends in Bollywood. It is quite impossible for any director or producer to fit a budget for these big names to work alongside, so we can draw the conclusion that there is no new movie in the pipeline for them together. However, fans will surely be overwhelmed if something grand is being made with the trio.

Edward Cullen as Batman?

According to rumours, former Twilight star, Robert Pattinson will play the role of Batman in the upcoming film, which is said to be released on June, 2021. The film will be directed by Matt Reeves, after Ben Affleck abandoned his role as actor and director. Although it hasn't been confirmed yet, it is claimed that Robert is the first choice for the role. While some were extremely unhappy with the casting, many came to his aid. Some even went as far as to say that he might astound fans like Heath Ledger. While that seems quite unlikely, we'll wait until the films release to judge. Let's hope this film somehow breaks the DCEU curse, and doesn't become a total flop, like some of their other films did.
