Tara will be next starring in Marjaavaan directed by Milap Zaveri. She will be working alongside Sidharth Malhotra, Riteish Deshmukh, and Rakul Preet Singh. She will also be seen in the Hindi remake of the Telugu hit RX 100.

AYUSHMANN kept his vows

Andhadhun actor, Ayushmann Khurrana's stardom allegedly had taken a heavy toll on his marital life. His wife Tahira Kashyap recently made some revelations about their love-life and how it has been difficult for the couple to hold onto each other at times. However, the couple found their silver lining when Khurrana decided to support Tahira in her battle against breast cancer. She said that Ayushmann's leaping career was making her insecure and as he was not giving her much time from his busy acting schedules she decided to give up. She added, "I had given up many times but he did not. He didn't use to give up but he also didn't make up... We both have really evolved as artists, as companions and we have seen a journey including cancer being a part of it. Where we are right now, it is at its strongest best." The childhood sweethearts got married in 2008 and are parents of a son, Virajveer and a daughter, Varushka.

MUTUAL CRUSH

Hollywood's favourite hitman John Wick recently made an interesting revelation on The Ellen DeGeneres Show. He has confessed about having a crush on his 1994 Speed co-star, Sandra Bullock. Previously in the same show Sandra expressed similar feelings and opened up about having a crush on Keanu. Recently Ellen - the host - showed him the clip where Sandra said, "I think about how sweet Keanu Reeves was and how handsome he was. It was hard for me to be serious. There was something about me that I guess he didn't like." After watching the clip, Reeves revealed that he never knew about Bullock's crush. He added, "She obviously didn't know I had a crush on her either." Now, things might have been quite different if the actors weren't shy and just took the step of sharing their mutual feelings.
