Sushi Samurai's iftar buffet

While the traditional iftar begs for dates, piyajus, begunis, haleem, fruits, and chhola, the not so traditional route is pan Asian, bento boxes, fusion rolls and something a tad bit expensive.

One of the best places to satisfy all these cravings without burning a hole in your pocket is to try out Sushi Samurai's all you can eat sushi buffet, this Ramadan.

With over 35 items on the menu, in addition to a limited selection of traditional iftar items like haleem and piyajus. The buffet includes an array of their popular fusion sushi rolls, including their signature and most ordered dishes, like the volcano and hot night rolls.

If ordered from the regular menu, both dishes can roughly mount up to Tk 1,500, but for the mere price of Tk 1,790++ each, or Tk 2,900++ for two, in the month of Ramadan, you can not only eat as much sushi as you want, but also dim sums and the whole dinner menu of buffet that includes authentic Chinese dishes like K-wow fried rice, bulgogis, and even perfectly crisped tempura.

For dessert, they also offer Horse and Horse's (a sister concern) most popular sea salted caramel fudge slice.

The most common opinion amongst customers when opting for buffets for iftar is that the food is not necessarily as good as when ordered a la carte. At Sushi Samurai, that truly is not the case, because each and every item is not only made from the best of ingredients available, but also bursts with flavours that will have you rushing back for more.

The beautiful décor of black, white, and gold accents with chandeliers and marble topped tables makes this a one of a kind unforgettable sushi experience.

As popular as the all you can eat sushi buffet has become, it is thus very important to book a reservation before coming here as seats can fill up as early as three days in advance.

Each guest is allocated into one of the two, two-hour slot buffets, one from 6:30-8:30 PM and the other from 8:30-10:30 PM.

Horse and Horse Your next stop for decadence and opulence

A place most popularly known for its opulent décor and Instagram worthy pictures, Horse and Horse is a brand that offers luxury at an affordable price to its clientele.

The food is just as grand as the place.

Horse and Horse has a well-developed menu that offers just the right number of options — hot panini and cold deli sandwiches, burgers, salads, and its most popular seafood items.

If you are in the mood for a quick bite, their pepperoni pizza panini is a must try. Between two slices of cheese bread, lies a more than enough portion of oozing melted mozzarella cheese, pizza sauce, and pepperoni slices, served over a bed of fries and habanero-naga and Dijon mustard sauces on the side.

For something on the heavier side, one of their most popular seafood dishes is their Lobster Royal Benedict. Every morsel of this dish will make you feel like proper royalty.

Perhaps, this was what Prince William had for his last birthday breakfast?

The base of the dish is burger buns, layered with lobster meat, perfectly poached eggs, and then finished off with a rich, smooth dollop of hollandaise sauce and cherry tomatoes.

Their indoor floral garden is next to perfection in terms of a setting to enjoy afternoon tea or coffee with their more than fair share of luxurious desserts and snacks that can very easily be at par with any other popular bakery out there, or maybe even better!

Horse and Horse's signature sea salted caramel fudge slice is the perfect combination of sweet chocolate sponge cake to sea salted caramel sauce. Just enough chocolatey sweet goodness to counter the hit of salted caramel, putting your taste buds in a frenzy.

For only Tk 290+ per piece, one slice is never enough!

Their dining area is just as lavish with the over the top chandelier, clocks, and other pieces around.

Horse and Horse provides top-notch service, which makes it one of the best places to revisit for a quiet meal or even a quick coffee break!
