

HOOKUPS & BREAKUPS

Shahid's No To Long Distance Relationship

Actor Shahid Kapoor recently made a revelation at a press meet for his movie Kabir Singh. During the question answer session, he was asked by a fan to give advice on long distance relationships to which he replied that he does not like the idea of geographic separation. He said, "I could never do long distance relationships. I mean, what's the point? I have always felt like... if I am in love with someone,

I would want to share as much time as I can with her but there are people who have done it. I have friends who managed to get through it, they have gotten married and they are really happy, so there are difficult phases one needs to get through in long distance relationships, and I was really bad with it." Shahid is now happily married to Mira Rajput and they share two beautiful children.

Another ending

Actor and filmmaker, Bradley Cooper and supermodel Irina Shayk have called it quits after four years of dating. Cooper and Irina have been a couple since 2015, and have a one-year-old daughter, Lea De Seine. Currently, they are working on sorting details about the custody of their daughter. They had been going through discontentment for a long time now but were still trying to mend things for the sake of their daughter. According to a quoted report, "They've spent time apart to test the waters and see if they are better off. They have a lot invested and it's very difficult to completely walk away from. They are trying out different arrangements and trying to find their way. They love their little girl dearly and that's not going to change no matter what." Previously, Cooper made headlines for his steaming chemistry with singer Lady Gaga and assumptions have been made that this might have somehow influenced their decision to part ways. However, we hope this couple comes to a mutual understanding and finds a good conclusion to their relationship.

No roar for a Wedding

Singer Katy Perry and actor Orlando Bloom are taking it slow as they seem to have no rush in taking their vows. Just four months ago, the couple got engaged in a romantic gesture and ever since then fans have been eagerly waiting for Perry to wear something outlandish for her wedding. However, recently on KISS Breakfast with Tom and Daisy, Katy revealed that the duo has a lot on their plate right now and are enjoying their engaged life. When asked about their wedding plans, Perry replied, "Well yeah, one step at a time. Definitely trying to, like, lay the good emotional foundation for the lifetime of commitment, which is, like, a big deal, you know?" Perry finished judging the most recent season of American Idol last month and just released her new single Never Really Over last week. Perry had previously been married to actor Russell Brand; while Bloom was previously married to Australian model Miranda Kerr, with whom he shares a son named Flynn.

