

QUITE THE CATCH!

Ranveer Singh and Deepika Padukone are one couple that fans have been rooting for, ever since they started dating six years back. With the abundance of charisma and enthusiasm possessed by Ranveer, it would seem impossible for Deepika to confine him within the vows of marriage. But, the couple seem to be taking their marriage in stride, and having a great time, as can be judged by Ranveer's recent Instagram post. The post contains a boomerang video of Deepika, hitting him with a bat, while he jumps, captioned "Story of my Life [laughing crying emoji] Real & Reel! @deepikapadukone @83thefilm". 83 refers to the eponymous new film by Kabir Singh, where Ranveer is set to play the role of Kapil Dev, while Deepika plays his wife, Romi Bhatia.

Miley's wedding charades

The only normal thing in pop singer, Miley's life is, perhaps her marriage. However, her eccentric personality and outrageous clothing choices have always made her fans question her capability of having a relationship. Recently, rumours about the couple splitting created a lot of buzz. But, the Malibu singer made sure everyone knew that she is still happily married, by posting a series of images on her Instagram story. One of the images was a screenshot of a published article with the headline "Miley Cyrus, Liam Hemsworth Split Rumors." The article must have gotten on her nerves, and she decided to strike back by captioning the image, "Happy 10 year anniversary my love, Good to see everyone is as dumb as they were in 2009! Some things never change & I hope the way you feel about me is one of them. Yours truly." Actor Liam Hemsworth and Miley Cyrus sparked real life romance from the set of the film, The Last Song in 2009. Last December, the couple tied the knot in a secret ceremony, and even with their relationship mayhems, they have reached quite a milestone.

A Pitted Romance?

In a recent episode of Watch What Happens Live with Andy Cohen, actor Robin Givens revealed the truth about her relationship with Brad Pitt. Mike Tyson, Givens's ex husband, had claimed in his memoir that he had caught his wife cheating on him with Brad Pitt on several occasions. In the memoir, Undisputed Truth, he also mentioned that his wife had allegedly spent a night with Brad, while she was married to him. However, Givens denied the claim on the show, mentioning that Tyson had only seen her once with Brad in a car, long after their split in 1989. Brad Pitt himself has not spoken up regarding the relationship. The actor will be spending the summer with his kids who are currently living with their mother, Angelina Jolie. Jolie and Pitt split in 2016, and are still reportedly fighting for the custody of their children. Meanwhile, rumours of Pitt and ex-wife, Jennifer Aniston dating again are currently making rounds in the media.

