

Quid pro quo: Not just skin deep

Imagine a situation where you have put on that perfect little black dress, sparkling white diamonds, paired with a sequined clutch and that flawless stiletto that you have been eyeing for the longest time, and you stand before the mirror, only to find out there's an obnoxious zit peeking-up from the bridge of your nose, taking up all your consciousness and attention.

What do you do?

Don't you feel like throwing away everything that meant something in your life for these ne'er-do-well imperfections?

Well, here at Star Lifestyle, we understand your tribulations and hence, have dedicated an entire issue to taking care of yourself, so that these tiny 'bumps-in-life' don't prevent you from enjoying life to the fullest.

Read on to find out how...

Photo: Sazzad Ibne Sayed

Model: Orko, Mysha

Styling: Sonia Yeasmin Isha

Hand paint: Syeda Afsana Keya

Makeup: Farzana Shakil's Makeover Salon