

Starting from classical and simple designs with watches having a plain dial to watches with a chronograph, every watch is unique. For instance, the TAGHeuer watches offered are tributes to different sports and athletes, whereas, the Movado brand appeals to more feminine and gentler tastes.

For all you watch connoisseurs out there, the Frederique Constant Worldtimer should seal the deal. It tells the time of multiple cities around the world and is the perfect symbiosis between watch making technology and its aesthetics.

For a posher look, some watches come engraved with diamonds, pearls and other jewels. Who ever thought you could do that with watches?

If you do not know the difference between manual and automatic wristwatches, well you could go into the store and find out yourself, and more.

As the buyer, instead of going for the cheapest option, try educating yourself. What makes a wristwatch so elegant? What is behind the price tag? You owe it to yourself to be exposed to this line of heritage and maybe even treat yourself.
