

Angels or Demons

A new era of Charlie's Angels is emerging with a completely different set of cast, starring Kristen Stewart, Naomi Scott and Ella Balinska, among others. Now the question in everyone's mind is whether the movie is going to be a hit like the Jumanji reboot or a miss like the new Men in Black. It will be interesting to see how this plays out, since the Charlie's Angels reboot has "the same premise, but with new stars," whereas the Jumanji reboot had "new stars with a new hook." It all rests on the hands of the audience; whether or not they want a reimagining of Charlie's Angels onscreen again.

NICKI'S SAUDI U-Turn

The queen of hip-hop, Nicki Minaj was supposed to headline in the upcoming Jeddah World Fest 2019, slated to be "one of the biggest music events ever staged in the Middle East". The likes of Liam Payne and Steve Aoki are also set to perform at the event. However, Minaj recently revealed that she has decided to pull out of the event citing human rights concerns. In a statement to The Associated Press, she mentioned, "After careful reflection I have decided to no longer move forward with my scheduled concert at Jeddah World Fest." No other artist has so far withdrawn from the concert, though things might change in the wake of Minaj's decision. The fest is scheduled to take place on July 18, 2019, at King Abdullah Sports stadium.

Small Steps to a New Future

The Life of Pi actor, Irrfan Khan had announced in March last year that he had been diagnosed with neuroendocrine tumour. He had been treated abroad, and returned to India recently, and is now shooting for the upcoming film, Angrezi Medium. He said on social media, "I am aware of your concern and request to talk to you, share my journey, but I am fathoming it myself inhaling and internalising, taking baby steps to merge my healing with work and trying to experiment the amalgamation of both." He further added that he's forever grateful for the prayers he received.
