The Eatery's Brazilian affair

Four Points by Sheraton Dhaka was the place to be for an unforgettable Brazilian gustatory evening last week.

The 24th floor of the establishment, specifically their signature restaurant The Eatery, had an array of 50 delicacies prepared by their Executive Chef Kaique Chericone, native to Brazil's Sao Paulo.

Generally, most buffets miss the quality mark while trying to put numbers on the menu board, in a competition between quality and quantity, with quality often getting the short end of the stick. The story here was completely different, as each item was individually outstanding.

The items on the buffet included roasted meats, cold meat Brazilian style, Amazonia whole fish, grilled salmon with a spicy coconut sauce, Brazilian Picanha (rump cap), creamy polenta, mixed seafood salad and soup, smoked bbq, short ribs, Brazilian Brigadeiro, Brazilian pudding, tiramisu, cheesecake and more, and even a live cooking station.

The ambience of The Eatery alone is well worth going back for as the view of the Gulshan 2 roundabout from the 24th floor is absolutely breath taking.

The Brazilian buffet dinner event lasted through 11 July to 20 July, and was priced at Tk 4700 per person with buy one get one offers available on some selected cards.

Epic burger challenge at Le Méridien Dhaka

The culinary team of Le Méridien Dhaka presented a food challenge never before experienced in Bangladesh. Foodies were invited to take on a 2 kg burger at their restaurant, Olea. The challenge started on July 5, 2019 and continued for two weeks.

As part of the challenge, the burger had to be finished within half an hour. The burger would be on the house for those who could complete it. Failure to do so would result in the customers to pay the full price: Tk 4,999++. This exclusive burger was not just massive in size but also packed with flavours. As ingredients the chefs used 2 kg of beef, cheddar cheese, beef bacon jam, special cocktail sauce, gherkins, jalapeno and fries served as a side.

On this occasion, the General Manager of Le Méridien Dhaka, Constantinos S Gavriel, commented, "I believe food can be entertainment. Food should be fun."

We have always liked the challenge 'Man vs Food'. So, we are very excited to bring our own challenge for our guests, through this challenge they can also experience a flavourful gourmet burger like never before. We encourage people to bring their friends along with them to take the challenge."
