

Barbecuing this Eid

One of the best things to look forward to during Eid-ul-Azha is cooking up a barbecue storm, be that in the backyard of your grandfather's house, the balcony or roof, with your nearest and dearest loved ones. Somehow, it miraculously always rains on the second or third day of Eid, making the evenings cool enough to prep for a barbecue dinner! Here are a few tips to be the perfect host/hostess for your next grilling fiesta!
