

MAKING IT OFFICIAL

Talented newcomers of B-town, Kartik Aaryan and Sara Ali Khan had been keeping their relationship under the wraps for a while now. But recently, the couple came out of their shell, and made it official. Sara has been busy shooting for her film, Coolie No 1 in Bangkok, and to her surprise, her so-called official lover, Kartik jetted off to Bangkok to celebrate Sara's birthday. Kartik shared a selfie on his Instagram handle, where we see the lovely pair having a romantic dinner, this time not hiding their faces. The romance between the duo brewed with a confession made by Sara about her innocent crush on the Sonu Ki Titu Ki Sweetie star, in an episode of Koffee with Karan.

DANCING ON THE CLOUTS!

Fans were shocked to hear that Jake Paul was marrying Tana Paul, after a mere two months of dating; only to realise that the wedding is a sham. The duo, apparently only tied the knot as a joke for YouTube content, deeming it a 'Clout Wedding'. Following the wedding, rumours surrounding Jake being unfaithful began circulating. The rumours started after Jake posted some videos of him having fun with girls in skimpy outfits, without Tana. Apparently, Tana was also supposed to be present. As she couldn't, the other girls were hired. He even claimed that Tana would be proud of him for this, and concluded with, "I can be friends with girls!" The real question is, why is the subject of faithfulness being brought up, when the 'marriage' itself isn't even legally binding?

MILEY'S MARRAIGE SLIDES AWAY

Miley Cyrus and Liam Hemsworth have called it quits again! Fans are not surprised this time as their relationship has always travelled on a bumpy road. It has been only seven months since The Hunger Games actor and Wrecking Ball singer tied the knot, but we all knew in the side-line that this marriage won't last long enough. According to several sources, drug abuse and drinking problems from Liam's end and Miley's infidelity has allegedly put their relationship at stake. And things got uglier when Cyrus was recently spotted kissing Brody Jenner's ex, Kaitlynn Carter. Miley confirmed their split on Saturday, through a statement released by her rep, and also wrote an Instagram post about "change" in general. Meanwhile, Liam took it to Instagram and wished his estranged wife nothing but "health and happiness going forward."

