Dazzling accessories from Coral Bell Jewellery

Getting the right earring or necklace to go with your outfit has never been easier thanks to online shopping, which has opened up a vast cache of styling essentials for any and all occasions. One newcomer on the scene is Coral Bell Jewellery. As a page-based jewellery shop, its journey began on 5 January, 2019. Behind it are two youngsters — Tazreean Tamiz Nadeea, a senior at BRAC University, and her best friend Saik Khan.

When asked about the reason for naming their venture, Coral Bell Jewellery, they mentioned that the inspiration came from the Coral Bells flower, which is distinct in appearance as it always grows upwards when it bloom.

Just like their namesake, within a very small period of time, they have soared in popularity. Their most popular designs like layered jhumkas, matte gold chandbalis, kanpasha styled jhumkas, matte meenakari bangles and earrings, and their kundan engraved earrings are all crowd favourites. Every shipment is almost like a race to the finish for the fans and buyers of the page!

Another highlight of this shop is that their products are of premium quality, and most are imported from India, including Mumbai, and Jaipur; few are from Thailand and China. The designs too are eye-catching and are all reasonably priced. The owners of the page also actively showcase their products with videos and photos, along with pictures of their clients with jewellery from Coral Bell.

Visit their page for your next favourite everyday go-to piece!
