What would be a fashion message you would like to give to the readers?

I would like to advise the readers to have a sense of individuality when it comes to fashion. I often see people who are influenced by western cultures and traditions, and forget the uniqueness that our own culture possesses. I believe it's important to keep our own heritage alive through fashion as well. I, myself, love wearing panjabi the most as it's a part of our culture.
