Can you describe yourself in three words?
I would have to go with confident, patient and a good human.

What is your favourite childhood memory?
I was born in Rangamati. So, all my childhood memories from there are my favourites as they are very different and unique.

If you could have any superpower, what would you choose?

I would opt for telepathy.

What are the first three items in your bucket list?

First and foremost, I would love to go on a world tour with my parents. Secondly, I want to build a home for myself on a hilltop overlooking the sea. Lastly, I would like to do something for our country, which would make my generation proud.

If you could work with any international artist, dead or alive, who would you choose?

I would love to work with Tom Hanks.

What is your favourite place to visit?
Sylhet and Rangamati are two of my most favourite places to visit. I haven't been to many countries, but I loved my trip to Thailand.

What is your favourite food?
I love eating all kinds of spicy foods.

Who was your first celebrity crush?
Arifin Shuvoo.

What is your favourite movie of all time?
You've Got Mail.

What do you like to do during your leisure time?
I love watching movies, whenever I get the time.

What is the first thing you do after waking up?
I check my phone.

What would you do if you won the lottery?
I would donate half of the money to a good cause. I would spend the other half on myself, and try to fulfill all the wishes in my bucket list.

If you could be any animal, what would you be?
I would want to be a bird.

PEEPING TOM

Functioning Dysfunctionally

Drugs, weapons, violence, betrayal and bitter romance are just some of the words to describe the show, Shameless. Arguably better than its British predecessor, this show is NOT for the faint-hearted. You better hope kids are not around while watching the show, or else, there will be some awkward confrontations. Truly an American national treasure, Shameless has had a long shelf-life, and nowhere in the eight years after its initial release, has the show had a single trace of political correctness. So, when we say that this show should not be watched if you're sensitive, we can't stress it enough. Season 9 closed off with Fiona's departure from her old life, and possibly, the show, while Ian and Mickey got the chance to get back together. Cue Gallavich fans screaming in joy. Don't count your blessings just yet, the trailer for the new season has quite the twists. A lot was shown in the brief trailer, which was a mess, quite like the show. In a nutshell: Fiona calls, Lip is a father, Ian wants a break from Mickey and Frank is binge drinking again. If that was too much to digest, just imagine what season 10 will be like. We have absolutely no idea what to expect, just like most of the fans. All we know is that this will be just as banging as the previous seasons. Prepare to wash your mouth out with soap. May November 17 arrive fast.
