

Detecting drunk drivers

device shows 'YES' on the display, with the level of the alcohol, and then police can file a case against him under section 144 of the Motor Vehicle Ordinance," said Inspector Bimal.

"There is a built-in printer inside the device. If anyone is found positive in the test, the driver's name, vehicle number, his licence number and other information would be input on it and printed out as a slip," he further said, adding that although drinking is not too prevalent among drivers in Bangladesh, some drivers of the hilly district (Rangamati, Bandarban, Khagrachhari) sometimes consume locally-brewed alcohol.

Sub-Inspector Mujibur Rahaman of the outpost -- who got training to use the device -- told The Daily Star, "The device is able to detect alcohol level within an hour of consumption."

"It cannot detect the other drugs like yaba or marijuana," he said.

Md Malek, a truck driver who was coming from Cox's Bazar to Chattogram and passed the test, told this correspondent, "This is a good initiative. Now, drivers will be cautious to not consume alcohol before driving."

Assistant Superintendent of Police Shafiqul Islam Sikdar of Cumilla Highway Zone told "Highway police are using the devices to conduct drives in different parts of the highway round the clock."

"It will minimise road accidents on the highway as drivers will be more careful," the ASP added.

complete the formalities within shortest possible time."

Fiyaz, an HSC student, told The Daily Star, over phone, "Abrar used to be my guardian in Dhaka. I don't want to stay here without him. I need to be with my parents now... I need to be home." He said he will leave for his hometown soon.

Abrar, a second-year student at Buet, was beaten to death by Bangladesh Chhatra League men at his university dorm on October 7.Later, his father filed a murder case against 19 Buet students, mostly BCL leaders, and several other unnamed accused with Chawkbazar Police Station. A total of 19 people have been arrested over the murder.

around 25,000 families. Visiting different roads in wards-6, 7, 9, 21 and 19, The Daily Star found almost all the roads and alleys were free from battery-run rickshaws.

Only six to seven rickshaws were plying Dackbangla and Picture Palace intersections. There was no rickshaw on 9km Dackbangla-Daulatpur road.

Many remained standing at Sonadanga Bus Terminal after getting off buses. The same scenario was seen on Ferry Ghat intersection.

Maruf Sheik, who came from Barishal with his three family members, was one of them.

He said, "I was looking for rickshaw to go to my Tuptara residence, but to no avail."

"Several easy bikes remained parked, but they were charging extra," he added.

Faruq Hossain Talukder, senior licence officer of KCC, told The Daily Star that they gave licence to 17,000 rickshaws that were turned into battery-run ones later. Now, the number has risen to 25,000, he added.

The number of legal rickshaws is not more than 200, he further said.

Newborn rescued

The baby had been shaking when he was rescued, the woman took it in her lap for warmth and he was saved, the OC informed quoting locals. Later the baby was cleaned.

Locals informed police about the incident. On information, police rushed to the spot around 9am and admitted the baby a Mymensingh Medical College Hospital (MMCH) for treatment.

There was a fracture in his left hand and an X-Ray was done at the hospital yesterday afternoon, said Prof Dr Md Anwar Hossain, head of Neonatal Intensive Care Unit of MMCH. The fracture is not serious and the baby's condition is good now, said the doctor.

apparently good ones to minimise the loss, they said.

Terming the arat owners' allegations just lame excuse, Magistrate Towhidul said only 5-10 percent of onions from Myanmar can have gone bad during transport. Importers and commission agents are taking advantage of the situation, he said. He said they are collecting names of importers and agents -- who are making the market unstable.

Mentionable, around 8,500 tonnes of onion have been imported from Myanmar in last 15 days, which entered the country through Teknaf, said Bikash Ranjan Barua, assistant revenue officer of Teknaf customs.

1 in 7 Bangladeshis

The proportion of undernourished population dropped to 14.7 percent in 2018 from 16.9 percent in 2011. But prevalence of wasting or acute malnutrition in children under five years rose to 15.7 percent in 2012 from 12.5 percent in 2002. It decreased to 14.4 percent last year, according to the GHI.

Mostafa Amir Sabbih, senior research associate of Centre for Policy Dialogue (CPD), said Bangladesh was able to make notable improvement in reducing hunger during the last two decades by successfully reducing the prevalence of stunted growth by nearly half and child mortality rate by nearly three times.

Yet, challenges still remain with regard to reducing the proportion of undernourishment and prevalence of wasting among children under five years of age, he said.

The 2018 GHI said Bangladeshis consume a diet that centres on rice, from which they receive about two-thirds of their calories. It said besides rice, vegetables and fish are important components of the diet for some people, yet for many others, dietary diversity is low and micronutrient deficiencies are widespread.

Muhammad Shahadat Hossain Siddiquee, professor of Department of Economics, University of Dhaka, said women and children in the vulnerable segment of the population are mostly affected by malnutrition and undernutrition.

"Hunger still persists at a high level. Micronutrient deficiencies in Bangladesh lead to hidden-hunger, which require special attention for the fulfilment of vitamin and mineral needs," he said.

Anwar Faruque, former agriculture secretary, said agriculture is the main livelihood in rural areas but farmers are not making profit from crops. As a result, farmers cannot spend enough for buying diverse foods, he said.

"Nutrition situation in rural areas will not improve unless agriculture brings profit," he said, adding that the poor in urban areas have to spend more on non-food items such as housing and education.

‘SUICIDE AFTER GANG-RAPE’

One held in Sylhet

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Sylhet

Police arrested one person yesterday in Bishwanathpur upazila of Sylhet, a day after a case was filed in connection with the rape of a woman, who later died by suicide.

The twenty-one year old woman, from Laltek village of Bishwanath upazila, died by suicide on October 10, a day after returning from her brother-in-law's house. Police recovered the body, and she was later buried after autopsy.

Her mother found a note in her bag on Sunday, where she said she was abducted and gang-raped during her visit.

The mother took the note to Bishwanathpur Police Station, and on Monday, her father filed a case accusing four persons including her brother-in-law Foyzul Islam.

Police arrested Foyzul while others are on the run, said Shamim Musa, officer-in-charge of the police station. "After receiving the note and filing of the case, we cross-checked her claims and carried out a drive to arrest the accused, whose names were on the note written by the victim", he said.

According to the case statement, the victim went to his sister's in-law's house on October 6. On the night of October 9, some miscreants abducted and gang-raped her. The abductors returned her to her brother-in-law's house and that day, her brother-in-law returned her to her house.

The next day, the girl hung herself from the roof.

Dhamrai municipality councillor Shaheb Ali, said police. On information from Ali, police arrested the accused.

MAN HELD FOR RAPING 5-YEAR OLD

A 50-year-old man was arrested early yesterday on charge of raping a five year old in Islampur area of Dhamrai.

The arrestee was identified as Golam Mostafa, hailing from Netrokona district.

Dipok Saha, officer in-charge of Dhamrai Police Station, said they arrested Mostafa after the father of the child filed a case against him on Monday night.

Quoting victim's family members, the OC said the child's parents are garment workers and were at work, leaving the child alone at their rented house on Monday. Mostafa, their neighbour, took the child to his room -- luring her with candy -- and raped her.

After threatening the victim not to disclose the matter to anyone, Mostafa let her go, the OC said. The incident came to light in the evening, as the victim disclosed the incident to her parents when they returned home.

The accused was sent to a Dhaka court after seeking a five-day remand, he added.
