Umme Shahara Bari passes away

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Umme Shahara Bari, 83, passed away yesterday at the capital's Anwer Khan Modern Medical College Hospital.

She was wife of late SA Bari, former deputy prime minister of Bangladesh during the tenure of late president Ziaur Rahman.

She left behind five daughters, grandchildren and a host of relatives, well-wishers and admirers.

Her namaz-e-janaza will be held today after the Zohr prayers at Mohammadpur Jame Mosque in the capital.

Fury over sharing wrote on Facebook: "Most people, if not all, didn't even notice it."

"We had to share the information of registered users with DIFF [organisers of the event] strictly for security purposes, as DIFF would require this information to identify users at the entrance to the festival," said Maliha.

"As a responsible company, we do not share any information about our valuable users with any party unless it is a necessity regarding security, and the users are well aware of this," she also said.

Supreme Court lawyer and founder of Bangladesh Cyber and Legal Center

Saimum Reza Piash said though there was a disclaimer in the registration process, it was not highlighted, and that is why it remains attendees' concern that their data will be shared.

"Currently, there is no data security law in the country. Companies are misusing customers' personal data and taking advantage of this situation," said Piash.

Dmoney, on the other hand, expressed deep regrets over the incident and issued a clarification.

"This message is to clarify and confirm that Dmoney account has not been created for anyone," Dmoney said in a Facebook post yesterday morning.

Police still in the dark

Around an hour and a half later, the miscreants left the house with some documents, two mobile phones owned by Ghiyasuddin and Sona Mia and the two medals.

They broke wardrobes and scattered documents all over the floor.

Sona Mia said after they left, he managed to untie himself and called the caretaker of the house Bina Beni Shangma and Ghiyasuddin's personal staff Motilal Chakma, who were at their homes nearby.

Both Bina and Motilal said they found a machete, one wrench and two crowbars, and several small bags of torn cloth scattered all around when they reached the house in the morning.

A sub-inspector of Savar Police Station visited the house around 7am that day after Bina informed the police.

Later, on October 22, police registered a general diary lodged by Sona Mia.

Kazi Ghiyasuddin alleged that Savar police were discouraging him to file a case in connection with the incident.

AFM Sayeed, Officer-in-Charge of Savar Model Police Station said he advised that either Ghiyasuddin or the security guard should be the complainant, but both of them were unwilling.

The police officer also said they were trying to detain the persons responsible for the incident and recover the looted goods. The two stolen cell phones are switched off, and if one of them is turned on, police would be able to track it, he added.

The OC also said the artist has applied for police protection at his house, and will be provided due support.

Kazi Ghiyasuddin suspected that a local person hired the criminals to harm him, as he used to protest against their unfair activities.

The artist had earlier lodged a complaint against a neighbour with Savar Municipality, as the latter reconstructed a boundary wall on top of the existing one beyond the legally permissible height.

Following the complaint, the executive engineer of Savar Municipality issued several notices asking the house owner to clear the wall.

Sharf Uddin Ahmed Choudhury, chief executive officer of Savar municipality, said, "Parts of the wall built beyond the permissible level have been removed." Meanwhile, Kazi Ghiyasuddin left for Japan yesterday.

Our Savar correspondent contributed to this report.

Police and passport officials said some Rohingya refugees were making Bangladeshi passports using forged NID cards with the help of some locals and Rohingya brokers.

The Rohingyas were using fake names and addresses while applying for the identification documents. EC officials still cannot say exactly how many Rohingyas have availed the cards through the illegal means.

After the incident, Double Mooring Thana Election Officer Pallabi Chakma filed the case accusing five people and several unknown in connection with the forgery.

the European Union to Bangladesh, said the climate change impacts are causing a rise in poverty and displacement.

The ever-increasing urban population and climate migrants are going to mount added demands on available environmental assets and civic amenities, he said.

The German development partner GIZ Bangladesh organised the seminar to share findings of "Urban Management of Internal Migration due to Climate Change" (UMIMCC) project at Bangabandhu International Conference Centre.

GIZ Bangladesh is implementing a five-year project -- worth 15 million euros -- funded by the German government and European Union to improve living conditions of climate migrants and urban poor in five selected cities of Rajshahi, Barishal, Khulna, Sirajganj and Satkhira.

Citing survey findings, Guntram Glasbrenner, acting team leader of the UMIMCC and Urban Management of Migration and Livelihood projects, in a presentation said over 56 percent of random respondents in the targeted areas were climate migrants.

Of the total 17,070 households targeted in the five-year project, 6,000 will receive skills development training for employment.

While Bangladesh has made remarkable progress in development indicators, migrants coming to urban areas toil for a livelihood source with skills that do not match the urban setting, said the speakers.

Satkhira municipality Mayor Tazkin Ahmed said in view of climate change disaster, measures must be taken to safeguard the Sundarbans that "as a true friend" has always protected the coastal community.

Shibani Bhattacharjee, additional secretary of the social welfare ministry; Caren Blume, deputy head of development cooperation at the German embassy in Dhaka; and Dr Angelika Fleddermann, country director of GIZ Bangladesh, among others, spoke at the event.

Kindness matters

Speakers said absence of kindness is one of the major reasons behind the increase in incidents like cruelty towards children, use of abusive words and losing temper or getting aggravated in daily activities.

Terming lack of kindness a social disease, they said it is also a major reason for social instability.

In his address, The Daily Star Editor and Publisher Mahfuz Anam said this newspaper has taken initiatives to spread the lessons of kindness through publishing such stories.

(Bangladesh-China-India-Myanmar) is shaping up with a promise to unlock production-distribution-transportation opportunities.

The minister said the Chinese Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) is already in place to connect Asia with Africa and Europe through land and maritime networks. "The Indo-Pacific strategy is also in progress," he added.

In today's world, he said, no single country can prosper alone and they need to work closely -- by drawing on each other's strength, capabilities and endowments.

The minister said many of the challenges the region faces can be addressed through collective efforts. Bangladesh is open to global and regional initiatives, which are helpful for economic development, he said.

State Minister Shahriar Alam emphasised better cooperation in the region. Asia has potential to do more and everyone recognises that this is an Asian century, he added.

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina inaugurated the event at InterContinental Dhaka on Monday, jointly hosted by Bangladesh Institute of International and Strategic Studies and India's ORF.

Police sent the victim to Chattogram Medical College Hospital for medical tests, while the victim's mother filed a case in this connection, added the OC.

Contacted, chairman Ahmed Nur denied the allegation, saying that after learning of the incident on Monday, he suggested the victim's mother to file a case.

"They [the victim and the accused] were asked to the spot in a bid to identify the culprits," he claimed.
