SOARING ONION PRICES

Shady traders at it again

Make the most of supply crunch

MOHAMMAD SUMAN, Ctg

Chattogram-based Alam Traders received a consignment of 59,880 kilogrammes of Burmese onions at Cox's Bazar's Teknaf land port on November 11. The importer paid about Tk 43 for each kg, show its documents.

On the same day and the next, per kg of the bulbs was sold for Tk 110-120 in wholesale markets in Chattogram and Dhaka.

The prices kept going up every day and on Friday hit a staggering Tk 180-200 a kg at the Khatunganj wholesale market in the port city.

This indicates how some unscrupulous traders jacked up the prices of the essential cooking ingredient, cashing in on the supply crunch at the domestic market, said market observers.

The crisis stemmed from the Indian ban on onion export and dwindling stock of locally-grown onions, they said.

Over the last week or so, especially after Cyclone Bulbul hit the southern part of the country, onion prices went up by over Tk 100 a kg, causing public outcry. Many cut short onion consumption.

For the last two days, the retail price in

Bangladesh whimper to crushing loss

ABDULLAH AL MEHEDI from Indore

Bangladesh were handed a thumping innings and 130-run defeat by a strong India outfit in the first Test at Indore after the visitors were bowled out for 213 runs in their second innings.

The difference in experience and ability between the two sides was obvious and following the defeat, skipper Mominul Haque said that

Crooked cop kept in service

He got bail in criminal case, became OC; allegedly forged FIRs to protect suspects and ran extortion gangs

ANWAR ALI, Rajshahi

Police inspector Shakil Uddin Ahamed evaded suspension for over one and a half years even though he had been accused of forgery, land grabbing, and even attempted murder.

He was made an officer-in-charge of a police station violating service rules during this time. He had also been accused of tampering with the first information report of a murder case to protect his political-leader ally. He also allegedly ran an extortion gang.

Shakil was posted in Pabna as a district intelligence officer when he was charged with forgery, land grabbing, and attempted murder in a case filed by his mother-in-law
