"If the judiciary is not pro-poor then what am I going to do with its independence?" Supreme Court lawyer Barrister Tania Amir said all the state organs must be co-equal. One organ should not control the other, she said, pointing towards the importance of separation of the judiciary from the executive. Separation of the judiciary is contemplated in the constitution itself, she added.

Retired bureaucrat Mokammel Hasan said demand for the judiciary's independence is not new. Such demand continued for centuries and those who are progressive have won the battle, he added.

A superior nature of the rule of law could be established through ensuring coordinated relationships among the three state organs, said Kazi Arifuzzaman, joint secretary of the law ministry.

Chairing the symposium, noted jurist and Bilia Chairman Barrister M Amir-ul-Islam said they would organise similar programmes in future and encourage participation of young law practitioners.

Prof Rumana Islam, deputy director of research at Bilia, delivered welcome speech.

Five held for murder of businessman in Tejgaon

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Police last night arrested five youths in connection with killing of 70-year-old businessman Tobarak Hossain at his Tejgaon flat on Wednesday.

The arrestees are: Imon Hossain (20), Sohel Pradhan (29), Babul Pradhan (28), Al Amin Khondkar Rihan (21), and Golam Rabbi (24). They were arrested from Narayanganj and Cumilla, said police sources.

The miscreants had planned the killing seven months back, and stabbed Tobarak to death on that day aiming to loot his valuables from his flat, police said.

Sahadat Hossain, additional deputy commissioner of the Detective Branch (DB) of Dhaka Metropolitan Police confirmed the arrest to The Daily Star, without elaborating further.

According to police sources, the killers bought a knife, scotch tape and rope from Chawkbazar and a crowbar from Mohakhali area on Tuesday as part of the murder plot.

The next morning, they went to the Tobarak's house and entered the building when its security guard went to a mosque to offer Fazr prayers.

The killers entered the victim's bedroom and tied up him along with his house help Saiful, before stabbing Tobarak.

They later broke an almira with the crowbar and made away with cash and other valuables, the sources said.

They left Dhaka after sharing the valuables.

Tobarak, a businessman by profession, used to live in his own flat at Shanti Niketon of Tejgaon. On Wednesday, masked men entered the flat and stabbed Tobarak.

ownership, payment of provident fund gratuity for retired workers, regularising weekly wages and implementation of the wage commission, and payment of outstanding bills. They also demanded that the government buy jute products for other sectors.

Sahana Sarmin, president of CBA (Collective Bargaining Agent) of Platinum Jute Mill, told The Daily Star, "The hunger strike is part of our demonstrations, and we will continue to protest until the wage commission is implemented."

Md Boniz Uddin Miah, liaison officer of BJMC Khulna zone, said, "Our high authorities arranged three meetings with CBA and Non-CBA leaders, but could not reach an understanding."

"If they begin a hunger strike, there is nothing we can do," he told this newspaper yesterday.

Around six weeks' wages of workers at Crescent, Platinum and Star jute mills, five weeks' of Khalishpur mill workers and four weeks' of Daulatpur mill are due, said workers.

The other mill workers are also not being paid regularly, and their salaries of at least five to six weeks are due.

The government announced a wage board for jute workers in June 2015, but it is yet to be implemented.

Over 31,000 workers have been working at nine state-owned jute mills in Khulna-Jashore industrial belt.

an eighth-grader at ABC International School in Narayanganj, won the first prize while Adeena Hasan, an eighth-grader at Manarat Dhaka International School and College, won the second prize. Nabihah Zaman, a sixth-grader at Manarat, and Shibray Deb, a seventh-grader at Mount Royal Academy, jointly won the third prize.

Besides, other participants were given certificates and gift hampers.

Before the prize-giving programme, the artists described to the judges what they had imagined to create the artwork. Some imagined a city free of traffic jam, while others imagined a developed country that cares for its animals and environment -- all were expressed through the artworks.

The Daily Star Editor and Publisher Mahfuz Anam was present as chief guest at the prize-giving programme. Contemporary visual artist Nazia Andaleeb Preema was one of the jury members.

Speaking at the programme, Mahfuz Anam said, "We casually say that young people are the future of our nation. But how? You [young people] are the future because of your qualities...by your skills and potential to imagine."

"All of us may have heard about Uber, the ride-hailing company that does not own a car...Amazon, one of the biggest tech companies of the world dealing with e-commerce. How did these companies form? Someone had imagined and come up with these new ideas..." he said.

He also thanked parents for their devotion to the children.

Nazia Andaleeb Preema said children have effectively expressed themselves through their creative artworks and imagination.

"The artworks created, that too at this age, were really thought-provoking and fully utilised their freedom of expression," she added.

Ayman Sadiq, founder and CEO of 10 Minute School; Osama Bin Noor, co-founder of Youth Opportunities; and artist Zahangir Alom were also present at the prize-giving programme, which was moderated by Tajdin Hassan, The Daily Star's head of marketing.
