'Country not being run according to constitution'

Says Dr Kamal at JSD council
UNB, Dhaka
Jatiya Oikyafront convener Dr Kamal Hossain yesterday said people cannot exercise their power as owners of the country, since Bangladesh is not run as per its constitution.
"Even after 50 years of the country's independence, we have to seek our constitutional power back. Our power have been usurped...we're not allowed to exercise our power as they [government] were not elected truly," he said.
Dr Kamal further said, "I would like to firmly say that the country's current governance system is not operated as per the constitution. Our leaders had written in the constitution that people are owners [sources] of power. But we're not allowed to enjoy it and the benefits of the independence."
He made the remarks while speaking at the triennial council of Jatiya Samajtantrik Dal (JSD-Rob) at Mohanagar Natya Mancha auditorium.
The Gonoforum chief said those who think they can buy people and keep the governance system under their grip with black money are living in fool's paradise.
Regretting that the ruling party has been in power 'resorting to falsehood and spreading lies over the general election and its results, he called upon the government to hold a fresh election after bringing changes to the Election Commission.
He said their alliance wants to restore people's ownership of the country on the eve of the Golden Jubilee of Independence.
Speaking at the programme, BNP Secretary General Mirza Fakhrul Islam Alamgir said Awami League has established a "puppet government" in the country, destroying the spirit of the Liberation War.

Shift focus to agro-based industry: BCI

UNB, Dhaka
President of Bangladesh Chamber of Industries (BCI) Anwar-ul Alam Chowdhury Parvez yesterday underscored the need for focusing on agro-based industry to ensure sustainable economic growth after the country's graduation from the group of Least Developed Countries (LDCs).
"Bangladesh's economy largely depends on RMG [readymade garments], textiles, foreign remittance and agricultural production. But to ensure sustainable economic growth after the country's graduation from the group of LDCs, we have to decrease our dependence on those and instead focus more on potentially viable sectors like light engineering, agro-based industry, halal products, blue economy and leather goods," he said while addressing the 33rd BCI annual general meeting at its office in the capital.
Parvez further said the volume of global market for light engineering is $7 trillion, whereas Bangladesh exports only $319.4 million.
The chamber has already taken initiatives to create new entrepreneurs and develop micro- and small industries apart from putting emphasis on light engineering and agro-processing industry, Parvez said.
Former BCI presidents Mostofa Azad Cowdhury Babu and Shahedul Islam Helal, senior vice president Md Helal Uddin and vice president Priti Chakraborty, as well as directors and general members of BCI were present.

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Khulna
Workers of eight state-owned jute mills in Khulna and Jashore industrial belt will go on an indefinite hunger strike again from this afternoon.
The decision was taken on Thursday, after a third meeting in Dhaka -- held between jute mill workers and leaders, and authorities from the Bangladesh Jute Mill Corporation (BJMC) and the Textiles and Jute Ministry -- failed to reach an understanding, said sources.
Earlier on December 10, the jute mill workers started a hunger strike to press home their 11-point demand, including implementation of national wage commission. One worker died and over two hundred fell sick during the hunger strike, which was suspended on December 13, after a meeting with State Minister for Labour and Employment Monnujan Sufian.

Following this, two meetings were held in Dhaka on December 15 -- one at the jute ministry and another at the BJMC office, in presence of all parties.
"Workers agreed to suspend the hunger strike till December 17. Later, the date was extended to December 22. But after the third meeting -- held between jute mill workers and leaders, and authorities from the Bangladesh Jute Mill Corporation and the textiles and jute ministry -- failed to reach an understanding, we made the decision," said Murad Hossain, former president of Crescent Jute Mill and joint convener of CBA and Non-CBA Sangram Parishad.
"State minister Monnujan Sufian asked for another month to fulfil our demands, but we do not want to give more time," said Murad Hossain.

Meanwhile, workers of eight state-owned jute mills in Khulna-Jashore industrial belt organised rallies yesterday at their respective mill gates.
Several thousand workers of Daulatpur, Khalishpur, Crescent, Platinum and Star jute mills gathered in front of their mill gates around 10am and took part in the demonstrations. Workers of Alim and Eastern jute mills also gathered in Atra industrial area of the city.
