

The 2020 symmetry Your fortunes for the New Year

You know 2020 is slated to be something special. That number alone warrants a piece on its own. But do not go thinking that wishing anything random on your own will somehow make it happen. If you really want to know, just keep reading. And of course, Happy New Year!

ARIES

Great news for the go-getter that is Aries. 2020 is ripe with opportunities for personal and professional success. But remember, the mantra for 2020 is family first.

Seems this year is your pot of gold as 2020 looks to be quite the lucky one for the house of ram. Expect buckets of opportunity to create something wonderful this year.

Do not get swept away with joy though, as this year should also be about bringing some much-needed security in your life. Finances need to be managed properly unless you want to end the year on a sour note.

If relationships were rocky the last couple of years, then expect some much-needed renewal for this year. Romances will be found in the weirdest of places. The start of it will be educational, but it should be smooth sailing from thereon.

As for your career, expect loads of hard work and paying dues. On the bright side, those efforts will also be rewarded in 2020.

TAURUS

Looks like it will mostly be sunny skies and smooth sailing for the house of bull. Key word being mostly. This is also the year when some take-it-or-leave-it decisions need to be made, and running the other way is not an option.

Being impulsive is not advisable.

At the very least, prospects regarding money are all in the green. Keep up the performance you have put in since last year and that effort will be rewarded near the end of 2020. Just make sure to not slack off and the money will just keep on coming.

Put in some exercise to keep yourself healthy, both physically and mentally.

Your relationship this year should be all about communication. This could lead to both positive bonding, or negative separations, but it's something you need to do nonetheless.

GEMINI

If you are willing to pace yourself, then 2020 can be quite the refreshing take for you. Use the time to tweak aspects of your life.

Expect a very intense year when it comes to romance, especially if the last year was a bit vanilla for your taste. But remember, it is the love and compassion that will make things better.

Matters regarding career is a bit scary. While career prospects seem bright, it is chock-full of stress, so find a way to manage that. Money is also another matter to keep an eye on, as unexpected expenses will leave you broke and sad.

The house of twins will be showered with luck, but sadly, not too many of you will be able to avail it to its fullest.

CANCER

Change is coming, whether you like it or not. This is a year of awareness for you. Chances for improvement will come up, but whether you choose to act on it or not is the question. Keep an eye out for things that you would otherwise miss.

Be in touch with your emotions, and that will surely harmonise your relationships. Nothing good comes from playing stoic. If you are single, 2020 is a great year to find love, but figure out your partner before rushing to anything.

Rejoice, as your work will be peppered with unbridled creativity and innovation this year. Who knows, you might even get a chance to travel faraway. Unfortunately, matters of money are still quite spotty for the house of crab, because your spending habits are bad.

LEO

Put down those mirrors and start chasing that dream of yours, because 2020 has laid down the road for it. But just like any road, avoid taking the wrong turns, because you will end up wasting your opportunities.

Work opportunities are plenty, and career switching options are also viable options for you in 2020. However, managing money needs to be your number one priority.

On the plus side, your circle of friends will see fresh new additions who will be of proper benefit to your life and overall wellbeing.

That being said though, 2020 is probably the worst year when it comes to romance for the house of lions. Be it a fresh new relationship, or an old one, expect tonnes of changes to come in, and not all of them will be good.
