NADAL CRUISES TO ACAPULCO TITLE

World number two Rafael Nadal captured his first ATP Tour title of 2020, easily defeating unseeded Taylor Fritz in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, in the final of the Mexico Open on Saturday. The 33-year-old Nadal, playing in his first tournament since losing in the quarter-finals at the Australian Open last month, didn't drop a set all week and improved to 19-2 all-time at this event. He nabbed his third Mexico Open title to go with victories in 2013 and 2005. "I couldn't be happier. I played a great event from the beginning to the end," Nadal said. "Acapulco was the first big title that I won in my career, so to be able to stay here after 15 years is amazing. I can't thank enough the people who make me feel at home every single time."

Klopp warns Reds as unbeaten run ends

AFP, Watford

Liverpool manager Jurgen Klopp insisted the title is not won yet after his side were beaten for the first time in 45 games in the Premier League as Watford thrashed the European champions 3-0 on Saturday.

Klopp's men still enjoy a 22-point lead at the top of the table and need a maximum of four wins from their remaining 10 games to secure a first league title for 30 years.

However, defeat at Vicarage Road continues a downturn in form as they sneaked past relegation-threatened Norwich and West Ham in their two previous league games and lost the first leg of their Champions League last 16 tie to Atletico Madrid.

"What the boys did so far is exceptional but it is not over," said Klopp.

"We did not expect the number of games we won. It was never easy and it will never be easy, so now let's carry on."

Klopp has long been an advocate of a winter break amid the gruelling English campaign to give his players a chance to rest and recuperate.

But a two-week break earlier this month appears to have disrupted the Reds' rhythm.

"Shape, form is not something we can take for granted. We fought against each every feeling in the body. We fought against everything and that's why we have that amount of points," added Klopp.

"The biggest surprise for me is that Watford is fighting to stay in the league. Now is the moment when everybody is fighting like crazy."

"We don't think it is the biggest catastrophe in world football. We feel the defeat really and now we have the chance to show the reaction again."

Ismaila Sarr was the star for Watford as the Senegalese struck twice in six minutes at the start of the second half and then teed up Troy Deeney to add a third.

The comprehensive scoreline had the added bonus of edging Watford out of the relegation zone by one goal ahead of Bournemouth.

However, after slipping back into the bottom three following a fine start to his reign, Hornets' boss Nigel Pearson is all too aware of the importance of backing up a famous win for the remainder of the season.

"It's such an important win for us. But it is one win," said Pearson.

"They are such an outstanding side, we had to get our performance right and I thought we thoroughly deserved the win."

"We threatened with the ball and defended with discipline, energy and commitment. That's been the message from day one."

"It's in our own hands, and we have to deliver that performance week in, week out."

Jibon rescues Abahani

SPORTS REPORTER

A 'controversial' headed goal from Nabib Newaj Jibon rescued Abahani in the Bangladesh Premier League in a single-goal win over Rahmatganj MFS at the Bangabandhu National Stadium yesterday.

Jibon, who seemed to be in an offside position, nodded a Kervens Belfort header into the net following a freekick from Mamunul Islam as the Sky Blues took revenge for their tiebreaker defeat against the Old Dhaka outfit in the Federation Cup quarterfinals.

Coming into the match on the back of a 1-1 draw against Brothers Union, the six-time professional league champions could hardly improve their performance against Rahmatganj, who took a counter-attacking approach by keeping a compact defence. However, captain Jibon rescued his side with a decisive header which prompted the Rahmatganj players to protest by surrounding assistant referee Monir Dhali but referee MA Nahid stuck to his decision. Rahmatganj, who held Sheikh Russel to a draw in their previous match, were in a defensive mood from the word go and kept their superior opponents at bay, thanks to some brilliant saves by former national goalkeeper Rasel Mahmud Liton.

Abahani forwards broke the Rahmatganj defence a few times, but Liton stood tall to deny Sunday Chizoba, Jibon, Edgar Bernhardt and Belfort.

Belfort released a nice forward-pass to Sunday in the fifth minute but the Nigerian striker saw his low drive inside the box easily gripped by Liton, who then stopped a powerful 25-yard shot from Jibon in the 13th minute.

Jibon once again came close to breaking the deadlock in the 35th minute but failed to beat Liton from close range before eventually getting the better of Liton in the 55th minute.

After conceding the lead, Rahmatganj started to press against the Sky Blues, who however went close to doubling the lead but Sunday hit the ball straight at Liton after Saad Uddin whipped in a low cross from the right.

Rahmatganj's real chance to level the margin came in the 75th minute, but Guinean defender Camara Younoussa saw his header go inches over the crossbar while Belfort failed to beat Liton from a one-on-one situation four minutes later.

In face of pressure from Rahmatganj, Abahani coach Mario Lemos sent on Egyptian defender Eissa Elmagharry in place of Sunday and Abahani left the field with their second win in their third match to join leaders Bashundhara Kings and Saif SC on top of the table.

Mbappe fires PSG to 4-0 win over Dijon

REUTERS, Undated

Kylian Mbappe capped a brilliant individual performance by scoring twice and creating another for Mauro Icardi as leaders Paris St Germain cruised to a comfortable 4-0 victory over Dijon in their Ligue 1 clash at the Parc des Princes on Saturday.

With Neymar and Marco Veratti suspended and Thiago Silva missing with injury, PSG got off to the perfect start when midfielder Pablo Sarabia steered a mis-hit shot from Marquinhos past Runar Runarsson in the third minute to give them the lead.

Mbappe added a second in the 74th minute, timing his run perfectly to collect Julian Draxler's through ball before rounding Runarsson and slotting the ball through the arms of the diving goalkeeper.

He then set up Icardi for PSG's third three minutes later, sliding a perfectly-weighted pass into the path of the Argentinian striker for him to fire the ball home.

The 21-year-old completed his attacking masterclass with a second goal in stoppage time at the end of the game, rifling the ball past the helpless Runarsson to complete the 4-0 rout.

The win took PSG to 68 points from 27 games and restored their lead at the top of the table to 13 following second-placed Olympique de Marseille's 3-2 win over Nimes on Friday night. Dijon remain just above the relegation places with 27 points.

In the late kickoffs, Teji Savanier scored twice for Montpellier as they thumped Strasbourg 3-0 and Angers put some daylight between themselves and the relegation zone with a 1-0 win away to Brest.

Bottom side Toulouse slumped to a 2-0 defeat at home against Rennes while Amiens, who are second from bottom, lost 1-0 at home to Metz, with Farid Boulaya getting on the scoresheet for the visitors.

On the south coast, Monaco were held to a 1-1 draw with Reims when Wissam Ben Yedder's first-half penalty for the home side was cancelled out by a 58th-minute equaliser from Hassane Kamara.

'Ashamed' Bayern to punish culprits

AFP, Berlin

Bayern Munich chairman Karl-Heinz Rummenigge vowed to "take all-out action" against the fans who unfurled a banner insulting Hoffenheim benefactor Dietmar Hopp during the Bundesliga leaders' 6-0 victory on Saturday.

The game in Hoffenheim finished in bizarre circumstances with both teams passing the ball between each other after a lengthy delay over an offensive banner in the section housing travelling Bayern supporters.

Players from both sides stood on the field but refused to play for the final 10 minutes as the clock wound down.

Rummenigge said he was "deeply ashamed of these chaotic people" who have "discredited the name of FC Bayern".

The entire Bayern team -- along with coach Hansi Flick and Rummenigge -- approached the ultras block and pleaded with fans to remove the banner.

"Today, at the absolute latest, the moment has come when the entire Bundesliga needs to take action against these chaotic people."

"We must all stand together. We have closed our eyes for far too long. This is the ugly face of football."

German Football Association boss Christian Seifert indicated after the match that no action would be taken against either side.

The fans refused to withdraw the banner, prompting a surreal conclusion to the match.

Napoli continue revival

REUTERS, Undated

Napoli continued their Serie A revival under Gennaro Gattuso with a comfortable 2-1 home win over a sorry Torino side who slumped to a sixth consecutive league defeat on Saturday.

Napoli quickly took control and went ahead after 19 minutes when defender Kostas Manolas headed in from a Lorenzo Insigne free kick.

Insigne missed an easy chance to increase their lead and then saw an effort saved by Salvatore Sirigu before Arkadiusz Milik hit the crossbar as Napoli continued to dominate.

Still, Napoli took until the 82nd minute to add a second when Giovanni Di Lorenzo turned in a Dries Mertens cross at the back post.

Simone Edera pulled one back in stoppage time from a rare Torino attack.

Napoli are sixth with 39 points from 26 games, having at one stage dropped to 13th, while Torino are 15th.
