Confidence in opposition waning

Says PM in JS; cites poor leadership

UNB, Dhaka

Strong opposition party in the country is a must to make democracy work for people, said Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina yesterday.

"For a democracy, a strong opposition party is a must as we want our democratic trend to continue," she said.

The prime minister said this while addressing the inaugural ceremony of "Programmes of Mujib Borsho", "Mujib Borsho website 2020-21" and digital compilation of Father of the Nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman by the 11th National Parliament at the Oath Room of the Jatiya Sangsad Bhaban.

Sheikh Hasina said the present opposition parties in Parliament could not attain the confidence and trust of people at their desired level due to the lack of leadership.

"Parliament has its role in continuing the democratic system in the country."

Public representatives can speak for people in Parliament, she said, recalling her days as opposition leader in the House when they had faced lots of problems in speaking up for people.

"But we can say we are not creating that type of problems sitting at the treasury bench," she said.

Talking about coronavirus and vaccine, the prime minister said Bangladesh attained considerable success in facing the pandemic. "With the arrival of the vaccine, it [government] has gained the power to face the virus with a greater strength."

Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina was present in parliament at that time.

As ruling party MPs jeered at Siraj, Deputy Speaker Fazle Rabbi Miah urged everyone to calm down. "Let him speak. You will get the chance to reply to his statement."

Siraj went on: "The Honourable President has remembered eight great leaders including Bangabandhu at the beginning of his speech in parliament [on January 18]. I also pray for the salvation

WHO team visits ground-zero

PROBE INTO ORIGINS OF COVID-19
Nations tighten virus curbs; CDC issues mask mandate for domestic travel in US

AGENCIES

WHO experts yesterday visited the market in central China linked to the first known Covid-19 cluster, seeking clues about the beginning of the pandemic as a number of nations further tightened restrictions to stop the coronavirus.

France yesterday closed its borders to non-European countries except for essential travel, a day after Germany imposed a ban on most travellers from nations hit by new, more contagious coronavirus variants.

And authorities in Australia imposed a snap five-day lockdown in Perth after the detection of a single case in the city of roughly two million people.

The emergence of the new variants has further complicated the fight against the coronavirus, which first emerged in late 2019 in the Chinese city of Wuhan before unleashing death and economic devastation around the world.

A World Health Organization team visited the Huanan food market in Wuhan yesterday as part of its fieldwork in a politically sensitive mission to investigate the origins of the pandemic.

Their visit is being tightly controlled, and the WHO has already downplayed expectations of finding the source of the virus, which is known to have infected more than 102 million people so far with over 2.2 million deaths.

The experts did not take any questions from journalists as they visited the market.

In recent days, Chinese authorities have relentlessly pushed a positive narrative of heroism and decisive, swift action against the virus.

Break up rallies in Moscow, other cities; US condemns

REUTERS, Moscow

Police detained more than 3,000 people and broke up rallies in Moscow and across Russia yesterday as supporters of Kremlin critic Alexei Navalny braved the bitter cold and a massive show of police force to demand he be set free.

The nationwide rallies are the second straight weekend of protests that are part of a high-risk opposition campaign to try to pressure the Kremlin into freeing President Vladimir Putin's most prominent opponent.

The opposition politician was arrested on January 17 after returning to Moscow from Germany where he had been recovering from a nerve agent poisoning in Russia last summer. He accuses Putin of ordering his murder, which the Kremlin denies.

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken condemned Russian authorities for their "harsh" response to protests across the country.

"The US condemns the persistent use of harsh tactics against peaceful protesters and journalists by Russian authorities for a second week straight," Blinken said on his official Twitter account.

Moscow accused the US of "gross interference" in Russia's affairs.
