PILKHANA MUTINY ANNIVERSARY

Make probe reports public

Family members want to know who masterminded the 2009 massacre and why

SHARIFUL ISLAM and ASHUTOSH SARKAR

The family members of 2009 Pilkhana massacre victims say they are still in the dark about the reasons behind such a bloodshed and who masterminded the killing of so many people.

They also demand the investigation reports over the incident be made public and justice be served making sure no innocent is punished.

"We want the real culprits to be punished, not any innocent," Nehreen Ferdousi, wife of slain Col Mojibul Haque, told The Daily Star.

She also said they want to know the reason behind the massacre.

Saqui Rahman, son of slain Col Kuadrat Elahi Rahman Shafique, said the High Court in its verdict (in 2017) asked the BCB authorities to investigate the failures of its intelligence unit to detect the impending 2009 mutiny.

The HC also advised the authorities to make the probe report public as soon as possible.

"We still don't know whether an investigation was carried out," said Saquib, who is also a lawyer.

He demanded the investigation reports over the incident -- one by a probe committee of the Bangladesh Army and the other led by a civil servant -- be made public.

"Ultimately the Appellate Division will deliver its verdict and the convicts may be executed. But we hope that we may get to know who conspired and masterminded such a massacre and why," said Saquib, demanding formation of a judicial inquiry committee under a retired Supreme Court justice.

RAPE VICTIMS HC issues rule on the govt for compensation

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The High Court yesterday issued a rule asking the government to explain in a week why it should not be directed to outline a scheme to ensure compensation for rape victims to make their constitutional right to life effective and meaningful.

In the rule, the court asked the authorities concerned with the government to show causes why their failure to take appropriate steps for rehabilitation of rape victims should not be declared illegal.

It also asked them to reply why they should not be ordered to give adequate compensation to three children of Dinajpur, Rangpur, and Khulna, who were raped in 2017 and last year in separate incidents, and why police should not be directed to produce the medical and investigation reports in connection with the incidents before the court.

Why did they kill my son?

Says a stunned father after ID'ing the body of 3-yr-old kidnapped from Gazipur

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The three-year-old boy whose body was recovered from a rooftop water tank in the capital's Shyampur area on Tuesday was kidnapped by a masked man from Gazipur on Saturday.

The victim was Nihad Islam, only son of Hanif Ali and Nargis Begum, who are workers of a garment factory in the district.

Hanif went to Dhaka Medical College morgue yesterday afternoon after seeing the news of the recovery of a minor boy's body.

He identified the swollen and decomposed body as that of his son's when he saw a key and a small bell tied with a string around the boy's waist.

Talking to The Daily Star, Hanif said Nihad was abducted after the boy went with his mother to her garment factory in Board Bazar area in Gazipur.

A CCTV camera installed in front of the factory showed a masked man taking him away, the father said. The parents filed a complaint with the local police station in this regard.

"My son was killed brutally. We are very poor and we do not have any known enemies. Why did they kill my son? We want justice," he said.

Hanif said no one called him demanding ransom for the return of his child.

Sub-inspector Mahbubur Rahman of Shyampur Police Station said the body was handed over to family members after an autopsy at DMCH.

Police are yet to arrest anyone in this regard, he added.

Dogs came to North America with earliest humans

AFP, Paris

Scientists said yesterday they had discovered the oldest remains of a domestic dog in the Americas dating back more than 10,000 years, suggesting the animals accompanied the first waves of human settlers.

Humans are thought to have migrated to North America from Siberia over what is today the Bering Strait at the end of the last Ice Age -- between 30,000 and 11,000 years ago.

The history of dogs has been intertwined with man since ancient times, and studying canine DNA can provide a good timeline for human

DETECTION OF SEVERAL VARIANTS India warns states of worsening Covid situation

REUTERS, New Delhi

India announced an expansion of its vaccination programme yesterday but warned that breaches of coronavirus protocols could worsen an infection surge in many states, particularly after it detected several variants.

Nearly a month after the health minister declared that Covid-19 had been contained, states such as Maharashtra in the west and Kerala in the south have reported a surge in cases, as reluctance grows over mask-wearing and social distancing.

India's infections are the second highest in the world at 11.03 million, swelled in the past 24 hours by 13,742, health ministry data shows. Deaths rose by a two-week high of 104 to 156,567.

"Any laxity in implementing stringent measures to curb the spread, especially in view of new strains of virus ... could compound the situation," the ministry said in a statement singling out nine states and a federal territory.

India has confirmed the long-time presence of two mutant variants - N440K and E484Q - in addition to those first detected in Brazil, Britain and South Africa.

The ministry said that while cases in the states of Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Kerala, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh and Punjab, as well as the federal territory of Jammu and Kashmir, were rising, the proportion of high-accuracy RT-PCR tests in those places was falling. Cases have also risen in Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal.

In the past week, a third of India's 36 states and union territories have reported an average of more than 100 new cases each day, with Kerala and Maharashtra both reporting
