Huge losses eclipse state banks' progress in trimming bad loans

Janata gets 4 years to plug Tk 5,475 crore capital shortfall

AKM ZAMIR UDDIN

Six state-run banks' progress in bringing down the defaulted loans last year on the back of recovery and the payment holiday was overshadowed by a large volume of net losses.

Sonali, Janata, Agrani, Rupali, BASIC Bank and Bangladesh Development Bank Ltd (BDBL) collectively had a net loss of Tk 4,949 crore in 2020, in contrast to a net profit of Tk 89 crore a year ago, data from the Bangladesh Bank showed.

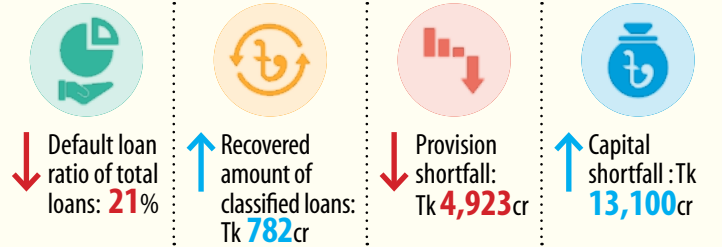

The net profit situation would have been better if Janata and BASIC Bank had not faced a large volume of net loss.

Janata Bank accumulated a net loss of Tk 5,054 crore in 2020 in contrast to a net profit of Tk 24.64 crore. The net loss at BASIC Bank widened to Tk 366 crore from Tk 326 crore in 2019.

However, the four other banks managed to make a combined profit of Tk 470 crore last year.

Janata Bank Managing Director Md Abdus Salam Azad said that the bank had recently moved out of the negative territory after the central bank granted it a regulatory forbearance.

The bank had a capital shortfall of Tk 5,475 crore in December. It has now been given four years to get rid of the capital shortfall.

"The central bank has allowed us to set aside the capital in phases within the next four years. This has helped us make a net profit of Tk 14.45 crore last year," Azad said.

The BB extended the forbearance to Janata Bank last week.

A regulatory forbearance is a policy that permits banks and financial institutions to continue operating even when their capital is fully depleted.

Central banks give banks extended periods during which they have to comply with regulatory requirements in securing new capital. This reflects the unwillingness of regulators to take disciplinary action against problem banks for a period.

The capital shortfall at the state-run lenders in Bangladesh stood at Tk 13,100 crore last year, up 29 per cent year-on-year.

Of the six banks, only BDBL had a capital surplus of Tk 605 crore last year.

Defaulted loans at the banks declined 3.91 per cent year-on-year to Tk 42,272 crore last year.

The central bank extended a loan moratorium facility to borrowers throughout last year to shield them from the pandemic-induced economic slowdown.

As a result, banks could not downgrade the credit status of borrowers where applicable. The payment holiday helped banks curb the upward trend of non-performing loans, a BB official said.

In addition, the banks took some steps to recover the defaulted loans, which had a positive impact on the volume of the bad assets.

The banks recovered a combined Tk 782 crore from defaulters last year, which improved their provisioning base as well.

Provisioning shortfall stood at Tk 4,923 crore last year, down 37 per cent year-on-year.

Govt mulls higher tax to curb fake fish farming claims

RUN-UP TO BUDGET FOR FY2021-22

SOHEL PARVEZ

High earners from fish and poultry hatchery as well as fish farming are likely to lose the privilege of income tax reductions from fiscal 2021-22 as the government plans to introduce a new slab to collect more taxes from fish and poultry farming entrepreneurs.

Taxpayers earning over Tk 30 lakh yearly may require to pay 15 per cent tax from the present 10 per cent, said finance ministry officials.

The hike in the top income bracket comes as the National Board of Revenue (NBR) looks to increase tax collection for the next fiscal year and curb scopes of evasion.

There is an allegation that a section of people show higher incomes from aquaculture to enjoy reduced tax benefits on fish farming which the government offers to encourage employment and increase availability of fish protein.

In a letter to the NBR in January this year, the Anti-Corruption Commission (ACC) asked to verify income sources shown by many taxpayers in their returns, including fish and poultry farming.

SME BOARD IN BOURSES First company oversubscribed by 18 times

STAR BUSINESS REPORT

The first company on the SME board of the country's bourses has been oversubscribed by about 18 times.

Nialco Alloys got approval to go public on the new board last month.

The company aims to raise Tk 7.5 crore from qualified investors by issuing 75 lakh shares at Tk 10 each.

In order to help the company meet its demand for long-term financing, the Bangladesh Securities and Exchange Commission has approved the country's first quality investors offering.

The planned Tk 7.50 crore offering was subscribed for by Tk 134.39 crore, which came from 309 eligible investors.

Subscription continued from May 16 to May 20.

The small-cap board, called the DSE SME, was rolled out on April 30 in 2019 with a view to facilitating small- and medium-sized enterprises to raise funds, which were shut out from the process before that for their lower turnover.

SMEs have been suffering from a financial shortage for many years, although these firms have a huge impact on the country's gross domestic product and employment generation.

With this backdrop, SMEs had repeatedly urged the BSEC to give a chance to raise funds from the stock market.

"Our profits were positively impacted by lower finance cost which was mainly due to low-interest regime in the banking sector," Chowdhury added.

The company's operating expenses dropped 4.7 per cent to Tk 120 crore

It provided handsome dividends last year from money saved from its previous profits despite incurring losses, he said.

"So, we were waiting to see the rebound of the company. It is good to see that the company is booking profits," he said.

The ACI's revenue stood at Tk 5,696 crore in the nine-month period which was Tk 5,189 crore in the same period of the previous year.

Local IT firms offering blockchain solutions abroad, Palak says

STAR BUSINESS REPORT

Bangladeshi IT companies have been deploying blockchain solutions across the world through training provided by the government, said State Minister for ICT Zunaid Ahmed Palak yesterday.

"Through a centre of excellence on emerging technologies under Bangladesh Computer Council (BCC), we have provided the training to around 200 developers in nine IT companies," he said.

"These companies are now deploying blockchain solutions in Bangladesh, Japan, Malaysia, the UK, the US and other markets," he said.

Blockchain is a ledger of blocks of information, such as transactions or agreements, that are stored across a network of computers, writes the BCC.

This information is stored chronologically, can be viewed by a community of users, and is not usually managed by a central authority such as a bank or a government. Once published, the information in a certain block can't be changed, it said.

If people try to tamper with that information, it becomes obvious. Ten years ago, blockchain was combined with other technologies to create cryptocurrencies, and the first blockchain-based cryptocurrency was Bitcoin, it added.

Palak was addressing a webinar on "Fasset presents the Blockchain Economy Summit 2021," organised by Inspiring Bangladesh and Leveraging ICT for Employment and Growth of the IT-ITES Industry, a project of the BCC
