Seven deadly bridges in four unions

OUR CORRESPONDENT, Patuakhali

As many as seven concrete bridges built on iron infrastructure have become the cause of great distress for about 50 thousand people in four unions of Amtali upazila under Barguna. Located in Atharogachhia, Haldia, Chawra and Gulishakhali unions of the upazila, the bridges are integral part of road communications in 19 villages of the unions. Out the seven, two bridges have collapsed while five others turned impassable after huge holes developed on those. The bridge on Gazipur canal in Atharogachhia union collapsed early this month after four of its pillars gave way, said locals. The bridge -- built by Local Government Engineering Department (LGED) in 2008 -- was the primary means of communications for about 15 thousand inhabitants of eight villages in the union, they also said. "Our sufferings since then have been inexplicable," said Humayun Kabir, a villager from Gazipur village. In 2011, when LGED built the bridge on Chawra canal near Haldia Hat Government Primary School in Haldia union at a cost of Tk 60 lakh, it came as a blessing for about 10 thousand residents in Haldia, Gurudal, North Taktabunia and South Taktabunia villages. But after large concrete chunks, as wide as its entire width, fell off the bridge in May this year, communications of the villagers with the upazila headquarters have become extremely difficult. Shanu Mollah, a farmer from Haldia village, said, "Movement of vehicles over the bridge has become impossible after that. I used to sell rice, lentil and other agricultural goods at Amtali market, but I can't do so anymore." Especially, taking pregnant women and critical patients to hospitals has become extremely difficult, he also said. Another bridge on the same canal was built by LGED about the same time in front of Radhi house in Chawra union. It has also turned hazardous since December last year when large holes developed in the middle of the bridge. Nearly ten thousand people in four villages now do not have any other option but use the risky bridge. In May this year, the third bridge that collapsed on Chawra canal has been the one near Kaunia Ibrahim Academy in Chawra union. With vehicular moment on the bridge suspended ever since, it inflicted immense sufferings on about eight thousand people in Kaunia, Chalabhangra, Majhisadanga and East Mahishdanga villages. In early February this year, a large section of the bridge on Loda canal, near Hafezia Madrasa in the same union, gave way while a heavily loaded light vehicle was crossing it. The bridge has remained off limits to the public since then, but no steps were taken to repair it. The bridge on the same canal near Loda

Government School in Chawra union is in a similar state. Even though concrete from large sections of the bridge fell off, there has been no initiative to repair it. Several thousand residents of Loda village now have no other option but risk their lives on the risky bridge. In Gulishakhali union, the bridge over Chila canal is also in a state of disrepair. A ten to twelve-foot section in the middle of the bridge gave way in 2019 when a cargo-laden tractor trolley was crossing it. The sufferings endured by around two thousand villagers have been unimaginable, as the authorities did not seem to have felt the need to repair it. Asked, Abdullah Al Mamun, an engineer of LGED in Amtali upazila, said they have plans to replace the seven damaged bridges with girder bridges and they already sought necessary funds from the authorities for the purpose. "After the fund is allocated, work will commence as early as possible."

'She kept traffickers in sync'

FROM PAGE 12 In Dubai, she is known as Layla, according to police. Other than Bangla, she is skilled in five languages -- Hindi, Arabic, Tamil, Malay and English. "The racket's network stretches to Malaysia, the UAE and India. Nodi coordinates for them," the DC said. Police said she had close ties with the Bangladeshi traffickers arrested by Bengaluru police on May 27 in connection with the video clip of a 22-year-old woman being tortured and sexually assaulted. "Nodi and Rifadul Islam Ridoy, also known as Ridoy Babo on TikTok, both lived in Moghbazar area in Dhaka. She is a part of Ridoy's racket. We have found that she has trafficked more than five women abroad through this racket," the DC said. Recently, five women who were trafficked to India and later forced into sex work, escaped from the clutches of the racket and returned to Bangladesh. They filed cases against the traffickers. Nodi, 28, is accused in at least two of the five trafficking cases filed with Hatirjheel Police Station in recent weeks. According to one of the cases, a victim's husband sold his wife to Nodi for Tk 40,000 and Nodi later handed over the woman to the sex racket in India for Tk 70,000. She also trafficked three more women of a family -- two sisters and their aunt -- from Jatrabari to the Indian cities of Bengaluru, Chennai and Kerala. Police seized two Aadhaar cards, a passport, a diary, photographs of two victims, two air tickets of a Bengaluru-Goa flight and a mobile phone from Nodi's possession. Nodi hails from Munshiganj and studied till class five. She was married to known criminal Rajib Hossain in 2005, police said.

In 2015, Rajib was killed in a crossfire. Investigators learnt that Nodi herself was trafficked to Malaysia by a racket in 2017. After coming back to the country in 2019, she married again, but police said the marriage did not last. In the same year, she met another trafficker named Sonia and eventually got involved in the racket. Two teams of police arrested the seven people while conducting raids in bordering areas in Jashore and Narail districts on Monday. The other arrestees are Al Amin Hossain, 28, Saiful Islam, 28, Palak Mandal, 26, Binash Sikdar, 33, Tarikul Islam, 26, and Amirul Islam, 30. The seven arrestees have each been placed on four-day remand. Dhaka Metropolitan Magistrate Mahmuda Akter passed the order after Investigation Officer Mohammad Mohiuddin Faruk, an inspector of Hatirjheel Police Station, produced them before the court with a 10-day remand prayer in a case filed by a victim who returned from India, court sources said. Police said Palak Mandal, hailing from Jashore's Monirampur, went to his grandfather's house in Uttar Chabbish Pargana of India's West Bengal after passing SSC. Later he completed a bachelor's degree in ayurvedic medicine. He came into close contact with Israfil Hossain Khokhon, Bakul, Taslima and other members of the racket staying in India. During his practice in ayurvedic medicine, he first targeted poor young girls who came for treatment. Then he sent them to Taslima in Bengaluru. "After that he started managing Aadhaar Cards for the trafficked women and also looked after the women at a 'safe home' and then sent them to Bengaluru," DCMd Shahidullah said. Police said he has his own Indian ID cards. "He has his Aadhaar card and two other ID cards issued by the election commission of India and Income Tax Department," said the police official. Police seized an Indian SIM card and a victim's Aadhaar card from his possession. UP MEMBER IN THE RACKET Police said a upazila parishad member in Sharsha gets Tk 1,000 for each woman trafficked to India. Police are yet to arrest her and have not yet disclosed the member's name. Police said the UP member has close ties with Al Amin. Al Amin had been involved in the racket since 2017 and was shot by India's Border Security Force (BSF) in 2020 when he was trafficking four women to India. "The women are kept at Al Amin's house near the Sharsha border. If any women get caught by BGB [Border Guard Bangladesh] during trafficking, the UP member manages to get them released by introducing the women as her relatives," said the official. Among the other arrestees, Saiful has a mobile transaction shop in Panch Bhulal Bazar area in Sharsha. The UP member and the other accused used to send and receive money using Saiful's account, according to police. Hailing from Narail, Binash rented a house at Benapole and filled forms for travellers who crossed the border. While doing this, he got involved with the racket. He also married an Indian national, police said. The investigators said the arrested traffickers are from the same transnational racket, the members of which were recently arrested in India. So far, law enforcement officials in Bangladesh have arrested 20 accused while Indian police arrested 12.
