Lawmakers blast health boss

Minister says 80pc population to be vaccinated by 2022 first quarter

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Eighty percent people of the country will be vaccinated for Covid-19 within the first quarter of next year, Health Minister Zahid Maleque told parliament yesterday.

While explaining, the minister said Bangladesh will get 6.30 crore vaccine shots within December under the Covax facilities.

"Besides, we will get seven crore doses of Johnson & Johnson vaccine and will be able to vaccinate seven crore people with the jabs by the first quarter of next year," he added.

In reply to opposition BNP and Jatiya Party lawmakers' huge criticism against the health ministry's failure to ensure vaccine for the people, the minister said around 25 lakh shots of Moderna vaccine would reach the country on July 2-3. Chinese vaccines will also arrive by that time. "Bangladesh has signed an agreement with Chinese Sinopharm to get 1.50 crore vaccine shots."

He said, "The country will have a total stock of 10 crore shots by December and we will be able to jab five crore people with the doses," the minister said.

This is how the country will be able to inoculate 80 percent of its people against Covid-19 within the first quarter of next year, the minister added.

With the evening sun going down and the sky turning a dusty pink, a quietness descended at the Holey Artisan Bakery on July 1, 2016, towards the end of Ramadan that year.

The Western-style glitzy restaurant on Road 79 in Gulshan-2, a posh neighbourhood of diplomats and corporate executives, had a thin crowd after the break of the day's fast.

As the evening progressed, the two-storey eatery -- with a wood-and-stone facade and a sprawling garden facing Gulshan Lake -- got busier.

By 8:00pm, a few Bangladeshis were dining, but the tables were largely occupied by expatriates -- a group of
