

TEESTA SWELLING, PEOPLE SUFFERING

With water level rising rapidly in the Teesta, people of low-lying areas along the river in Rangpur and Lalmonirhat are seeing water entering their neighbourhoods and homes. Many are desperately trying to keep things dry and enduring difficulties in getting food for their families and getting their produce to local markets. Those less fortunate to have had their homes flooded are dismantling their houses and moving those to higher grounds. The photos were taken from Chouraha village in Lalmonirhat's Aditmari and East Binbina Char village of Rangpur's Gangachara upazila.
