Vietnam's economy suffers record contraction in Q3

AFP. Hano

Vietnam's economy suffered its heaviest contraction on record in the third quarter, officials said Wednesday, after a devastating wave of Covid-19 forced the widespread suspension of manufacturing in the export-reliant country.

Gross domestic product shrunk 6.17 per cent on-year in the July-September period, with the general statistics office (GSO) saying it was the sharpest since the Southeast Asian nation began recording quarterly figures -- reportedly in 1986.

Vietnam was last year among the best performing economies in Asia and one of the few in the world to expand after it kept virus numbers low and businesses largely open.

But the latest coronavirus wave, which began in April in its northern industrial parks and rapidly spread south to business hub Ho Chi Minh City, "caused serious impact" to the economy, the GSO said.

State-run news outlet VNExpress said it was the first time Vietnam had recorded negative quarterly growth since 2000.A third of the country's 100 million population faced stay-athome order for months this summer, with factories closed and supply chains seriously disrupted. There have been more than 770,000 infections and nearly 19,000 deaths.

"The fourth round of the pandemic... has directly hit many enterprises, breaking the supply chain," deputy investment minister Nguyen Thi Bich Ngoc was quoted as saying on the government's official website.

"Business and production plans were overturned with some partially or fully suspending operations. "But she added: "The contemporary per cent expansion.

Ctg bourse seeks | Kamal hints at merger of to fire MD for | Padma with state bank misuse of power FROM PAGE B1

Rashid joined the CSE on February 4 last year for a four-year term.

"We have taken the decision based on some serious issues, including the unethical use of the CSE's asset,' said a board member, preferring anonymity.

The decision came at the board neeting on September 16.

A top official of the Bangladesh Securities and Exchange Commission confirmed that it received the CSE's letter and analysed all the facts.

Anti-Corruption Earlier, the Commission (ACC) took legal actions against Rashid for his alleged involvement in irregularities in giving out loans to a firm when he was the managing director of Standard Bank.

"Such activities left a bad impact on the bourse and tarnished the stock exchange's image. So, we took the decision," the board member said.

ACC Assistant Director Muhammad Zoynal Abedin filed the case against Rashid and seven others for allegedly embezzling about Tk 4 crore from the bank.

According to the case statement, the accused sanctioned the loan of Tk 4 crore to little-known Sachatan Shahajjo Sangstha between November 2017 and June 2018.

Padma Bank said it faced a lot of constraints since the start of its new journey in 2019, including a severe shortfall of liquidity.

It said to have managed to improve its liquidity status over the next two years and grow confidence among depositors while continuing the process of regularising default loans in phases.

The finance ministry last week sent the application of Padma Bank to the Bangladesh Bank seeking opinion, said sources.

Established in 2013 as Farmers Bank, the lender had fallen prey to scamsters. A Bangladesh Bank investigation found that more than Tk 3,500 crore was siphoned off between 2013 and 2017.

The bank fell in deep trouble after depositors, which included agencies, government started pulling out money as allegations of corruption surfaced against Muhiuddin Khan Alamgir and Md Mahabubul Haque Chisty, the then board chairman and chairman of the audit committee, respectively.

When asked why the government was considering rescuing the bank, Kamal said he had not read the application submitted by the bank yet

He, however, said: "We all know that there were many irregularities at the bank. But we are yet to know about the complete picture of corruption."

Lawsuits have been filed against those who were initially found to be involved in the irregularities, and many are now in jail. "What can the government do other than this? The government will take punitive measures against the people involved in irregularities and corruption following due procedures," Kamal said.

Fahmida Khatun, executive director of the Centre for Policy Dialogue, said merging Padma Bank with state lenders would not fetch any positive impact for the financial sector.

"We all know why the private bank is in dire straits. A wide range of financial scams had occurred. As a result, the lender is yet to return to its normal activities," she said.

"The scamsters and corrupt people will feel encouraged if the merger takes place."

Earlier this month, Padma Bank signed a memorandum of understanding with California-based investment bank DelMorgan & Co to find potential foreign investors.

The bank's operating losses stood at Tk 120 crore in the first half of 2021, resulting from the Covid-19induced economic slowdown. The capital shortfall would amount to Tk 2,100 crore as of June this year, the bank said.

Massive factory inspection begins next month

As such, BIDA will lead an 18-member central coordinating committee and three sub-committees.

About 32 industrial sectors will be given priority under this initiative considering their high potential for accidents. The concerned factory authorities will be informed three days before an inspection.

FBCCI President Md Jashim Uddin said implementing factory safety measures currently require licensing from many government agencies and departments.

So, creating a one-stop service platform at BIDA would help reduce the harassment faced by entrepreneurs and facilitate safer working environments, he added.

Uddin also called upon all stakeholders to cooperate in the factory monitoring activities.

Mostafa Azad Chowdhury Babu, senior vice president of the FBCCI, said that although some money was previously spent on the safety reform process, only Bangladesh's exportoriented garment industry is reaping the benefits.

Now, the FBCCI is working with BIDA to help all other sectors enjoy the same, he added.

When accidents happen at a factory, only the owner is blamed even though the authorities who issued its safety licenses should also be held accountable.

Referring to a massive fire at a chemical warehouse in Nimtoli that claimed 124 lives in 2010, Babu said that if a separate chemical hub had been formed as promised, the 2019 fire incident in Churihatta that killed 72 people could have been avoided.

Babu also assured that the FBCCI would take the necessary steps to eliminate tariff inequality between export-oriented and non exportoriented industries in importing safety equipment.

MA Momen, a vice president of the FBCCI, said entrepreneurs have will be adopted at the entrepreneur, nothing to fear from the inspection checklist

The FBCCI has partnered with the initiative to help industrialists. If this step is successful, all industries in the country will be as safe as garment making units.

This will improve Bangladesh's international image and subsequently attract more foreign investment as well, he added.

'The country's industrial progress has been informal so far," said FBCCI Vice President Md Amin Helaly, adding that it is high time to ensure a safe working environment in all industries

Md Habib Ullah Don, another vice president of the FBCCI, called for issuing safety certificates only to factories that qualify in the integrated monitoring programme.

Lt Col Zulfiqar Rahman, director of the Department of Fire Service and Civil Defense, said no businessman would be caught through the programme.

Instead, sector-wise action plans association and government level to make factories safer by sorting out the information obtained through observation.

Sedex is home to one of the world's largest collaborative platforms for sharing responsible sourcing data on supply chains, while the Higg Index is an apparel and footwear industry self-assessment standard for assessing environmental and social sustainability throughout the supply chain.

Germany is the second-largest export destination for Bangladesh after the US. Last fiscal year, the country shipped $5.6 billion worth of goods to the European country. Of the goods, more than 95 per cent are garment items.

At 148, Bangladesh has the highest number of green garment factories in the world. Another 500 are waiting to be certified by the US Green Building Council (USGBC).

Of the top 10 Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design green buildings certified by the USGBC, nine are in Bangladesh.

Currently, Bangladesh is the secondhighest ethical sourcing country certified by the QIMA and has the second-highest number of global organic textile standardcertified garment factories, Ashraf said.

"We are hopeful that we can comply with the new German law. Still, we want a grace period from Germany to implement the law in our factories," he said.

Amrita Makin Islam, deputy managing director of Picard Bangladesh, a Bangladesh-German joint venture leather goods company, said there was a need to disseminate information about the new law among the business community.

Mosharraf Hossain Bhuiyan, Bangladesh's ambassador to Germany, also demanded the grace period for complying with the new law.

He urged the government to complete the construction of the central effluent treatment plant at the Savar Tannery Industrial Estate so that the leather and leather goods sector could comply with the law.

"The leather and leather goods exports may face trouble if the construction of the CETP is not completed on time."

But after noticing that effective measures were yet to be taken, Rahman opted to go and see the problem himself.

He found that two of the machines that were installed in March are still not in operation while the other two have broken down. "It is both sad and unacceptable that they could not fix the issue as of yet, Rahman said.

The Bangladesh Garment Manufacturers and Exporters Association (BGMEA) recently urged the government to improve the cargo-handling services at Hazrat Shahjalal International Airport to facilitate quicker shipments.

A BGMEA delegation led by acting President SM Mannan made this request to Md Mahbub Ali, the state minister for civil aviation and tourism, during a meeting at the Secretariat.

At the meeting, BGMEA leaders also stressed the need to regularly carry out maintenance on the EDS in order to keep them operational at all times.

Salman irked by inoperative | Population census faces further delays FROM PAGE B1

As per the revised plan, the BBS will spend two-thirds of the budget on data collection and other ancillary sectors and the rest on devices and software purchases.

The preparation for holding the census was delayed further due to the revision in the plan, according to a BBS official.

"Despite that, we were hoping to carry out the census on time."

But, at the eleventh hour, the cabinet committee on purchase, on August 25, rejected the proposal for buying tabs, citing non-compliance.

Eight companies bought bidding documents, and only two local companies, which manufacture and assemble electronic items, took part in the bidding.

The BBS selected the lowest bidder, which offered to supply a tab for around Tk 10,000, up from Tk 6,000 offered by the lowest bidder.

The purchase committee rejected the proposal, saying that due procedures were not followed in forwarding the proposal and asked the BBS to call for a retender. It also questioned why the proposal was not submitted in two separate envelopes. Planning Minister Mannan, who was also present at the meeting, said that the committee turned down the proposal for not maintaining two separate envelopes. Usually, one of the envelopes contains a technical proposal and the other the financial proposal.

The BBS official says two envelopes are maintained for the tender in which the authorities don't know about the specification of the product.

"But, in this case, we know about the specification. So, it is not mandatory to maintain two envelopes. However, as the purchase committee has already instructed to maintain two envelopes, we are following the order," the BBS official said.

The BBS called for a re-tender in the middle of August.

It will take 45 days to resend the proposal to the cabinet committee after completing the tender procedures. So, the census is set to delayed by another two months, he said.

As per the master plan, the BBS was supposed to train up students, who have at least completed higher secondary or equivalentlevel education, on digital equipment from September 1. The authorities are yet to arrange the training programme.

BBS officials say it has prepared a digital map of every part of the country that could be used for various purposes in the future.

In Bangladesh, the first population census was conducted in 1974. Subsequently, the population and housing censuses were held in 1981, 1991, 2001, and 2011.
