DoE failed to protect Savar wetlands

Says HC verdict

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

The High Court yesterday lambasted the Department of Environment (DoE) for failing to protect waterbodies -- Baghil Beel, Dholai Beel and Pakuria Beel, and Kornapara Khal -- in Savar from pollution and encroachment.

Delivering a verdict on a writ petition, the court said the DoE was negligent in properly monitoring and enforcing environment protection laws to save and preserve ecology and the livelihood of people in areas surrounding the waterbodies from pollution caused by the dumping of hazardous and toxic industrial waste.

The full text of the verdict, however, has not been released yet.

The action taken by the DoE against the industrial companies, which are dumping hazardous waste into the waterbodies, is inadequate, the HC bench of Justice KM Kamrul Kader and Justice Muhammad Mahub Ul Islam observed.

The bench said the explanation by the DoE, saying it cannot take proper steps due to shortage of manpower and Covid-19 pandemic, is not acceptable.

The bench also directed the authorities concerned to take necessary steps to protect and save the wetlands and waterbodies from further pollution and damage.

It further asked the DoE to submit a report before it on the position of the waterbodies, the quality of the water, and the steps taken against the polluters every six months.

INDIRA GANDHI'S PRESS CONFERENCE

A Tashkent-type conference is not possible to solve the crisis created by Pakistan. But no problem is unsolvable and that even at the last moment the world can make the Yahya regime see reason and bow to the wishes of Bangalees. Indira Gandhi stressed these points in her press conference today in Bonn. She, however, made it clear that India would not allow the crisis to continue for long because the Bangladeshi refugees must go back in safety and with dignity.

FEAR OF FULL WAR BY INDIA, PAKISTAN
US Secretary of State William P Rogers expressed the administration's growing concern today that the border clashes between India and Pakistan might lead to an all-out war. Addressing a press briefing, Rogers said that the United States had "urgently counseled both sides to follow maximum restraint" and was "quietly trying to defuse the situation" between the two South Asian neighbors. In answer to a question, Rogers said that the United States, in case of war, "will do everything we can to stay out."

Pakistani Foreign Secretary Sultan Mohammad Khan said today that there is a "virtual state of war" with India along the borders of Pakistan. He said at a news conference at United Nations headquarters that only "extreme patience and care" by Pakistan had kept this "state of war" from being "expanded." Sultan, who was en route to Washington in a world tour in which he had already visited Moscow and Peking, indicated that Pakistan was not

VIOLENCE IN MYANMAR UNSC expresses 'deep concern'

AFP, New York

The UN Security Council expressed its "deep concern" Wednesday about recent unrest in Myanmar and called for an "immediate cessation of violence" and for efforts to ensure that civilians are not harmed.

In a statement issued as reports emerged of clashes between junta troops and fighters from a major militant group in Rakhine state, the Security Council warned that "recent developments pose particular serious challenges for the voluntary, safe, dignified, and sustainable return of Rohingya refugees and internally displaced persons."

The clashes, reported by a rebel spokesman, broke a ceasefire that had kept the peace in the western region since a February coup by the military junta.

The Southeast Asian country has been in chaos since the February putsch, with a brutal crackdown on dissent and
