SOVIET DELEGATES DISCUSS BANGLADESH WITH INDIRA GANDHI

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V Kuznetsov held talks on Bangladesh with Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today in New Delhi.

An Indian government spokesman said that discussions in New Delhi and in Moscow—where an Indian representative, DP Dhar, arrived yesterday—would deal with the question of Soviet recognition of Bangladesh. Diplomatic sources, according to The New York Times, believed that the Russians would try to persuade Indira Gandhi to accept a halt to the fighting once the battle in Bangladesh was won and not to try to push ahead in West Pakistan.

DP Dhar had preliminary low-level talks today with Soviet officials.
