Ziaur Rahman Khan's death anniv today

CITY DESK

Today is the first death anniversary of Barrister Ziaur Rahman Khan, a four-time former lawmaker and senior lawyer of the Supreme Court.

On the occasion, a doa mahfil will be held in the local mosque of his village Balia, Dhamrai.

On this day in 2021, Ziaur died of coronavirus, aged 75, said a press release.

He was elected MP four times -- in 1991, twice in 1996 and in 2001 from Dhaka-20 constituency (Dhamrai) with BNP's ticket. He resided at Dhanmondi-7.

In his early life, Ziaur was a journalist and worked for The Pakistan Observer. His weekly write up "Talk of the Town" became a very popular column, which he wrote as Zia Omar.

In 1970, he went to study law in London and became a barrister. He returned home in 1977 and started practising. He later joined the chamber of Barrister Ishtiaq in the 80s and worked till early 90s.

In 1991, he joined BNP and became an MP in the first election after restoration of democracy with the fall of Ershad regime. His father, Ataur Rahman Khan, was the chief minister of East Pakistan from September 1956 to 1958, until the martial law's promulgation.

Ataur Rahman was also the prime minister of Bangladesh from March 30, 1984 to January 1, 1985 during HM Ershad's rule.

A meal for a good deed

'Bhalo Kaajer Hotel' making a difference

DIPAN NANDY

On Friday afternoon, at Tejgaon's Satrasta intersection in the capital, a peculiar "hotel" was seen next to the land survey building. There, it doesn't cost money to get a whole meal; anybody can avail one for a good deed done by them in the day.

Two people were seen sitting on the footpath with food, eagerly waiting for "buyers". They were the sellers of "Bhalo Kaajer Hotel (Meal for Good Work)".

One of them, Apu, a student of civil engineering, talked about what counts as deeds to them. "Hard work also counts as a good deed. If someone has pulled a rickshaw all day or done any other hard work, they are also given food," he said.

'All you need to do is just come and tell us, and our volunteers will entertain them. If someone has not done any of the good deeds but comes to us hungry, we will also entertain them, asking them to perform a good deed the next

Buyers from different age groups and backgrounds visit the place for a meal. One of the welcomed buyers was Golam Mostofa, a rickshaw puller.

"These boys serve us good food every day. It really helps poor people like us," he said "God bless these kids for feeding the hungry," wished Faruk, a day labourer.

Sakib Hasan Shaon, a senior volunteer of the project said they don't usually charge anyone except the volunteers. However, donations are accepted during Ramadan.

Although their activities started in 2011, the hotel has been running for the last two years.

They have also started another initiative called "Bhalo Kaajer Hospital", under which patients who cannot afford to get medical attention are treated by volunteering doctors at Kamalapur Rail Station every Saturday after dinner.

"Bhalo Kajer Hotel" is a place where one gets food in exchange for a good deed, which can even be a day's hard work. Under the initiative, 500 people on average people from low-income groups are served iftar every day. The photo was taken in the capital's Kamalapur on Thursday.
