CITY DESK
"Shonge Achi", a voluntary and humanitarian organisation, distributed clothes to 1,000 underprivileged children living on the streets on the occasion of Eid yesterday.
The distribution drive was held in front of the capital's Viharunissa Noon School & College, where the children were given fresh haircuts as well, said a press release.
Present at the event were the foundation's governing board member Kazi Azizul Islam, its president Md Joshim Uddin Khan and trustee Marzia Rahman.
Starting its journey during the pandemic, the foundation has been supporting families severely affected by the pandemic by providing them with food, clothes, healthcare and recreational activities for the children.
Over the last two years, the foundation has distributed one lakh free meals to orphanages and rehabilitation centres, along with distributing clothes to 5,000 street children.

many honest people in the country's politics, but he was a 100 percent honest man."
The foreign minister said Muhith was an enlightened man. The PM had given him the opportunity to work, and he has done so with honesty and sincerity. He was very talented and hardworking, that is what he has proven.
Gonoshtaya's Jafarullah said Muhith is one of those who ushered in freedom. During the Liberation War, he was in Washington and played an essential role during the war along with the other expatriates. Without the expatriates' efforts, the liberation movement of Bangabandhu would not have been possible.
Ahrar Ahmad, director general of Gyantapas Abdur Razzaq Foundation (GARF), also paid respects on behalf of the foundation. Muhith was the chair of the foundation's trustee board.
"The country will miss an honest and wise leader and an internationally acclaimed economist. We at GARF will miss his constructive guidance, his warm friendship, his enlightened presence, his eager support of research and scholarship, and his keen appreciation of the arts and humanities. We offer our condolences to his family, and pray for his eternal peace," he said.

Matia Chowdhury said he had a sense of responsibility and humanity. "How many of us are as successful as him?"
Rashed Khan Menon said Muhith was a very simple man, who always had a smile on his face. In bureaucracy and politics, he was a rare figure.
AL's Nurul Islam Nahid said Muhith contributed to the economy, directly and indirectly, in many ways. It is painful to lose a man like him.
Hasanul Haq Inu said, "We have lost a talented man from the intellectual world; we have lost a friend in the cultural world."
Cultural personality Asaduzzaman Noor said Muhith made excellent contributions in economics and the country's culture. "He had shown that, unlike others, he could actually implement his ideas."
After paying homage at Shaheed Minar, the body was taken to Central Jame Masjid of DU, where his second janaza was held after Zohr prayers, reports UNB.
Earlier, the first janaza was held at the city's Gulshan Azad Mosque at 11:05am, reports BSS.
Ministers AK Abdul Momen, Mustafa Kamal and MA Mannan; State Minister for Cultural Affairs KM Khalid; Nurul Islam Nahid; former chief whip ASM Feroz; Rab Director General Chowdhury Abdullah Al Mamun; Muhith's son Shahed Muhith; and people from all backgrounds took part in the janaza.
After the janaza at Azad mosque, Mustafa Kamal told reporters that Muhith's memory will remain alive forever because of his good deeds.

Owners cash

Mentioning an example from last year, he said they held a meeting in presence of government authorities ahead of Eid regarding bonuses. Following the meeting, the owners closed their yards for holidays after giving workers Tk 500 to 1,000.
"They are a big mafia. This year, the same thing is repeating, depriving the workers of their dues. The labour movement lost its momentum, which enabled owners to do whatever they want," he said.
Jeyabul Ahmed (35), who has worked for a ship-breaking organisation for the last one year, told this newspaper that they were barred from asking about bonuses. "It seems like they will offer some meagre amount before the yard closes for the holidays."
The Daily Star talked to a number of ship-breaking workers. All of them expressed the same woes.
Abul Kalam, president of Ship-breaking Workers Welfare Association, told this newspaper that owners ensure full salary and bonus for its staff but not workers, a blatant discrimination that has been going on for a long time.
"Regulatory body DIFE [Department of Inspection for Factories and Establishment] did not exercise its power to compel owners to pay bonuses", he alleged.

Abdullah Al Sakib Mubarrat, deputy inspector general for DIFE, Chattogram division, denied the allegation, saying that they held a meeting recently to ensure bonuses. "I asked owners to submit the sheet of payees to make sure workers are paid their dues", he said.
Mubarrat, however, admitted that sometimes, contractors under which the workers are employed deprive them of bonuses.
"The contractors received full payment from owners but pay workers as low as they can, fleecing the rest of the money. It's difficult to take action when such things happen. As no one files any complaint, we can't take action," he said.
Contacted, Abu Taher, president of Bangladesh Ship-breaking and Ship Recycling Association, told The Daily Star that owners paid bonuses as per their wish.
"Those workers who were not regularised are not eligible for bonuses. Owners paid them as per their ability," he said.
Asked about the workers' claims, he shrugged them off, saying that they are unfounded.

they face various issues like this due to a shortage of staffers. The total area of Lathitila forest is around 5,600 acres. But only three people are in charge of taking care of it, he added.
Abdul Karim Kim, general secretary of Bangladesh Poribesh Andolon (BAPA), Sylhet chapter, told this correspondent, "Lathitila forest is rich in rare species of plants and animals, but it is being destroyed by loggers. If we want to save our environment, we must save this forest."
He alleged that a wood trafficking syndicate has been cutting the trees and selling them to traders with support from the local administration, law enforcement agencies and forest department.
Refuting the allegation, Toufiqul Islam, divisional forest officer in Sylhet, said they will investigate the matter soon and take legal action against the culprits.
Despite repeated attempts, this correspondent could not get in touch with Helal Mia.

"They were instructed to remove all equipment used in the brickfields," he added.
But such actions could not make the brick kiln owners refrain from going into operation again. They repaired those, got all the equipment ready and started burning bricks again.
These two brick kilns have been operating illegally for almost 18 years. Although the DoE takes actions following numerous complaints from local farmers, it brings no result, farmers alleged.
The farmers said the illegal brickfields located around their cultivable land are causing damage to their crops.
Shamim Ashraf, deputy director of the Department of Agricultural Extension in Lalmonirhat, echoed them.
Abdul Quader, one of the farmers, said, "Owners of the two illegal brick kilns are quite influential. They even harassed those who protested against them."
"If their illegal activities continue, our agricultural production will severely be hampered," he added.
Contacted, SIR Bricks owner Entazur Rahman and SUN Bricks owner Ashikur Rahman refused to talk to the media in this regard.
Lalmonirhat Sadar UNO Mahmuda Masum said she does not know the details about the two brickfields as she joined the office recently.
The DoE deputy director Mez Babul Alam said they will launch another drive against the errant owners soon.
