A political stunt?

BCC administrative officer Swapan Kumar Das said about 2,600 yellow easy-bikes were licensed some five or six years ago.

"However, they are no longer licensed. The city corporation is currently surveying in this regard," said the BCC official.

According to BCC sources, the city corporation does not know the exact number of three-wheelers currently running, but the approximate number could be around 8,000 to 10,000.

This correspondent recently visited Bangabandhu Udyan in Barishal and saw that members of the Auto Workers Welfare Organisation, supported by the BCC mayor, were distributing serial stickers among the drivers.

Alzal Hossain Majumder, vice-president of the organisation, said the mayor announced at a workers' meeting that the battery-run three-wheelers would be allowed on the streets again, as the HC lifted the ban.

BCC Mayor Serniabat Sadiq Abdullah said, "As the ban on easy-bikes has been lifted, I have said that they will be allowed to operate in the city. However, I'm not issuing any licence."

However, Sheikh Md Selim, assistant commissioner of Barishal Metropolitan Police, said, "We have not yet received any official documents containing the instruction to allow easy-bike movement on the streets."

BRTA assistant director in Barishal Shah Alam echoed him.

"I do not understand how the city corporation is allowing this. Many think that with the upcoming elections, the mayor wants to use this issue to gain some political advantage," said Shah Alam.

Meanwhile, the mayor-backed organisation and Bangladesh Samajtantrik Dal (BSD)-backed "Battery-Powered Rickshaw and Easy-bike Driver Sangram Parishad" are planning to hold a meeting in this regard.

BSD member secretary Dr Manisha Chakraborty said the HC lifted the ban on battery-powered easy-bikes on December 15, last year, responding to a petition filed by the workers.

"But the way the city corporation is implementing the three-wheeler movement for political gain seems extremely dubious," she said.

"From the looks of it, they plan to bring in more workers under their organisation. It is immoral. This entire ordeal should be brought under one policy licensed through BRTA," she added.

Some 57,585 Bangladeshis will be able to perform hajj this year, likely to be held on July 8, depending on moon sighting. Of them, 4,000 will perform Hajj under government management and the rest under the arrangement made by private agencies.

allegation was proved during the investigation, they recommended suspending the accused faculty member's increments and promotion for ten years, following the Supreme Court's directives.

"But the syndicate did not follow the recommendation," she said. "It is unacceptable that a convict of such an offence was granted such consideration. This sets a bad precedence and creates a negative impact among the students."

The two students had complained to the institute authorities that the teacher was mentally and sexually harassing them on June 25 and 27, 2019.

The authorities then formed a three-member investigation committee. The students also filed a GD with Motihar Police Station on June 28 that year.

The authorities relieved the teacher of all academic duties on July 2 that year. Later, the complaint was sent to the university's sexual harassment cell for investigation.

resources. It threatens the environment, ecosystem, climate, and food security.

The government should adopt stronger laws and effective tax measures to thwart this hazard, he said.

To safeguard people's health from the impacts of tobacco, the government must amend the tobacco control law to eliminate designated smoking areas in all public locations and workplaces, ensure a smoke-free environment in mass transportation facilities, and ban corporate social responsibility programmes of tobacco companies.

The government should also adopt measures to discourage tobacco cultivation and encourage alternatives among farmers, he added.

Jewel, who came to play with his friends, told The Daily Star that earlier, there was no recreational spot for them in this area. "We would go to nearby areas to play cricket and football. Now, we can play in this field."

Gias Uddin, a senior resident of Bakshibazar area, said, "We've been demanding a renovated playground for a long time. Now, we're happy with the place."

Architect Rafiq Azam,

the new designer of the playground, told The Daily Star that Abdul Alim playground is his first experimental project.

"Through this project, we have torn down the playground's walls. Because, if the walls are present, people will not think of the field as their own. Another good thing that came out of this decision is that illegal shops near the walls have been closed," he said.

Contacted, Hasibur Rahman Manik, the local ward councillor, said they are working hard to maintain the playground.
