to find health officials who are willing to be trained as skilled managers," Dr Benazir Ahmed, former director of disease control at the health directorate, said at the event.

"Appointing doctors will not be fruitful unless they are recruited at the union level permanently instead of the three-yearlong posting. They also need to be provided with residence, dispensary and other instruments in each union," he added.

To ensure the best use of the existing budgetary allocation, Dr Benazir proposed a comprehensive budget planning, which will be prepared in at least a sixmonth-long collaboration among health officials, academicians and students before the budget.

Dr Rashed Al Mahmud

Titumir, professor of development studies at Dhaka University, differed on the idea of forming a health commission to reform the sector.

"I want nothing but a doctor for every people. This is more important than forming a commission or any other plan," said Dr Rashed. Syed Abdul Hamid, (DPP) of the latest plan contains no mention of this existing building. It only talks about the older administrative building and asks Tk 152.80 crore to build a new one.

Regarding this, eminent economist Prof Anu Muhammad said, "If the Anu authorities build the new building, around Tk 100 crore would go down the drain. They can't just do this whimsically. JU can just complete construction of the existing building."

Not mentioning that construction of one part of the existing building was finished in 2016 in the DPP is tantamount to hiding information, he added.

"Obscuring facts like unacceptable. They should've disclosed everything from the beginning, but we have been kept in the dark about all the work. Opinions of stakeholders were also not taken at that time," Anu said.

Besides, without creating definite masterplan, authorities are building and demolishing structures as per their wish. Due to this, crores are being wasted, stakeholders said.

The university's library is facing a similar fate. Instead of completing construction of the existing structure, authorities have decided to build a new one. This will cost Tk 101 crore.

Asked about all this, Vice Chancellor Prof Nurul Alam, "I do not want to comment on this matter, as I was not involved with these matters when the decisions were taken."

Former vice chancellor Farzana Islam could not be reached for comments, despite repeated efforts.

The crimes don't just stop at blackmailing, extortion and embezzlement. They now branch from question leak to sexual harassment and trafficking to initiating riots and clashes as well.

Recently, a syndicate used WhatsApp to leak the questions papers and solutions of a recruitment exam taken by Directorate of Secondary and Higher Education (DSHE), which was held at 61 centres in Dhaka on May 13.

"Fake news spread rapidly in our country for our proactiveness on social media, making way for crimes that are horrendous in nature," said CTTC official Mishuk Chakma.

On March 12, three people were killed and several others were injured in a clash in Shommania union under Gazipur's Kapasia, centring a comment made Facebook. Around arrests were made between May 2021 to March 2022 for crimes conducted using media platform. The patterns noticed in crimes using TikTok suggest that the targets are mostly girls who were lured in with promises of TikTok stardom. Once the victims agreed to their proposal, meetings are arranged. The rest is a story of horrifying

Organised trafficking syndicates have trafficked at least 50 girls to the neighbouring country and the Middle East, luring them via social media platforms, said law enforcers.

Officials working at the FROM PAGE 3 Cyber Police Centre (CPC) of Criminal Investigation said just a couple of years ago, they used to receive around 1,500 cybercrime complaints every month on

The number has now risen to 2,500.

Admitting the gravity of the situation, SM Ashraful Alam, special superintendent CPC (Investigation and Operation) of CID, said cybercrimes are increasing in recent times.

"Majority of these crimes are related to social media, e-commerce and f-commerce. We are still thankful that crimes depending on advanced technology are still not taking place in the country on a large scale," he said.

Md Tawohidul Haque, assistant professor of the Institute of Social Welfare and Research at Dhaka University, said a large number of people, who are victims of cybercrime, do not report to law enforcers due to the social stigma associated with such crimes. He blamed the lack of awareness among users for the rising trend in cybercrimes.

"The complaints are made only when there is no other option left for the victims. By analysing different media reports and data, it can be said the numbers are indeed rising," he said.

suspended in September 2018 for allegations of corruption and forced labour.

Bangladesh's recruiting agencies in general also protested any syndication of agents, arguing that it leads to manipulation, corruption and labour exploitation.

Santiago Bangladeshi recruitment agencies are saving that the 25 agencies selected are controlled by one guy called "Datuk Seri Mohd Amin Abdul Nor". Bangladeshi-born Amin has been accused multiple times of allegedly being behind a syndicate that is said to monopolise the recruitment of Bangladeshi workers to Malaysia.

"It is up to the minister to clarify how these 25 agencies will solve the problem. This issue has been dilly-dallied long enough, and it's being done at the expense of the people and the country," he told Malay Mail on June 12.

Meanwhile, Beyond Borders Malaysia President Mahi Ramakrishnan said Saravanan owes it to the public and stakeholders to provide a clarification on how the selection of the 25 recruitment agencies was conducted.

Adrian Pereira, founder of North-South Initiative, a rights based NGO in Kuala Lumpur, said if there are companies that have better practices, in line with International Labour Organisation markers, why they would be stopped from recruiting.
