

CPB demands after arson attack in Khagrachhari

STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Communist Party of Bangladesh (CPB) yesterday demanded justice regarding the attack and torching of 37 houses of ethnic-minority people in Khagrachhari's Mahalchhari upazila.

In a statement, CPB president Shah Alam and general secretary Ruhin Hossain Prince said the number of attacks and kidnappings in hill areas increased rapidly, but the government failed to ensure safety of minorities.

At least 37 houses of ethnic minorities were set on fire on Tuesday, over a land dispute between them and settlers at Joysen Para in Mahalchhari. About five people were also reportedly injured in the incident.

Cattle markets near Rohingya camps buzzing

MOSTAFA YOUSUF

With Eid getting ever closer, Rohingya camps have been in a festive mood lately, as many were seen buying animals for sacrifice in nearby cattle markets.

At least 10 cattle markets -- including those in Kutupalong, Ukhiya, Morichya, Palongkhali, Thengkhali, Balukhali, and Teknaf's Hnaila, Huyaikkong and Leda -- have been growing larger as each year passes by.

This correspondent visited Kutupalong and Ukhiya's TV Tower cattle markets and talked with a few customers.

Hossen Mia, a resident of Kutupalong Camp-0 went to Kutupalong Bazar to look for a medium-sized buffalo or bull for Eid.

"My elder brother lives in Malaysia. He sent us some money for Eid with his savings. I managed to save from my own income as well, and we decided to offer sacrifice," he said.

Shahidur Rahman (45), a local cattle trader from Lambaghona of Holdiyapalong union, bought 26 buffaloes from TV Tower cattle market to sell it off to Rohingya people.

"I've been coming here since the Rohingya influx took place to sell cattle. Since Tuesday, I sold off 10 buffaloes. Most Rohingyas who bought buffaloes said they had an expat relative abroad," he said.

Shahid informed most Rohingyas chose small to medium-sized cattle for sacrifice.

Helal Uddin, Rajapalong union parishad member -- which hosts four camps -- said Rohingyas along with the Bangalee community are buying cattle for Eid.

But Imrul Kayes Chowdhury, chairperson of Haldiyapalong Union Parishad, had a different opinion regarding their purchasing power.

"Livestock office says, the demand for sacrificial animals in Ukhiya upazila is 9,000, whereas we have only 8,000 available. Sometimes, this affects locals' ability to buy cattle," he said.

He claimed many Rohingyas are involved with the yaba trade, which may have increased their purchasing capacity.

Dr Asim Sen, livestock officer of Ukhiya, said they have 23,000 animals in stock, which is enough for locals.

Shamsud Douza Nayan, additional commissioner of Refugee Relief and Repatriation Commissioner Office, said they have a designated place for sacrificing at Rohingya camps.

"Last year, 3,000 animals were sacrificed. This time, it could be close to that figure or a bit lower," he added.

Government to start project on religious harmony

Says state minister for religious affairs

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT

The government will implement a nationwide "Religious Harmony and Awareness" project through education and cultural activism involving women, youth, civil society, community and faith leaders to further promote the culture of peace, tolerance and inclusiveness, said State Minister for Religious Affairs Faridul Haque Khan.

He was speaking at the “2022 International Ministerial Conference on Freedom of Religion or Belief”, hosted by the UK government in London from July 5-6, according to a statement of the Bangladesh High Commission in the UK yesterday.

The conference brought together faith and belief leaders, governments, parliamentarians, and civil society organisations from 100 countries to take global action to promote freedom of religion or belief for all.

At the event, Faridul also highlighted Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's zero-tolerance policy on discrimination or violence against religious minorities, as he was delivering the country statement.

He said Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman founded a democratic and secular people's republic in 1971, but the spirit was destroyed by communal forces following his brutal assassination in 1975.

His daughter Hasina restored religious freedom in the constitution as the cornerstone of the country's secular identity and took various initiatives to ensure religious freedom.

16. Brief Description of Assignment:	The main objective of this assignment is to hire a qualified IT firm for the design, development, commissioning and implementation of the Medical Education & Monitoring System to make it a scalable and integrated e-Logbook Platform that facilitates end-to-end automation of the core BCPS business functions through unified IT Platform. In this regard, objectives are to achieve the following milestones as a part of this project execution: e-Logbook Monitoring System: Keeping track of trainees/fellow/supervisor performance, assessment records with feedback, and relevant curriculum and activities. e-Logbook Management System: The BCPS electronic logbook (surgical e-logbook) aims to simplify the registration of surgical residents' training activities and to obtain reliable and detailed reports on these activities for resident evaluation. The new model's primary goal is to simplify data recording in order to achieve a higher level of compliance and increase the reliability of the data recorded. e-Logbook device management System: Keeping current and device records of Supervisors/trainee pool, including detailed academic, training, and appointment, participation in College activities, and training track record. Subject and Faculty management: Assuring that the Institute provides training in accordance with BCPS guidelines. Course Curriculum management: Keeping curriculum plans organized for an entire course can be a challenge, especially when multiple teachers are involved in the planning. Teachers may use different content collaboration platforms for storing their lessons and materials, making it harder for instructors to share plans with each other. Online Registration management: Registration can be done fully online. It should offer the option to set up registrant types, payment types, wait lists and attendance trackers. Supervisor Management: Manage the supervisors who will check Daily activities and log of the trainees, and verify every day through online. Guide Management: The guide management system which will provide idea/ knowledge for thesis and approve their Dissertation via online. Training Institute Management: BCPS will monitor all of the training institute through online. Progress report management: After successfully completing the trainee's task, he or she will receive a progress report and an e certificate. Mobile apps: Application integration in the process of enabling independently designed applications to work together. Commonly required capabilities include: Keeping separate copies of data (in independently designed applications) consistent. ➤ The firm must develop API that can communicate external or existing other modules. For some modules of this project must have interfacing and integration to hardware devices; ➤ The services include but not limited to: - Conduct a comprehensive Gap Analysis, Functional and System Requirement Study and develop a detailed Functional and System Requirement Study/Gap Analysis Document (SRSD) for review and approval. - Conduct a hardware and networking needs assessment and develop an assessment report for review and approval. - Produce a System Design Document(SDD) on approved SRSD and obtain SDD approval. - Develop, customize and implement e-Logbook Platform based on agreed SRSD and SDD; - Integrate e-Logbook with other government agencies to verify beneficiary information and track their course; - Perform Data migration of existing available data into new e-Log book system; - Conduct System installation, configuration on e-Logbook hardware; - Conduct a robust System testing and ensures System Compatibility under BCPS and Bangladesh Computer Council (BCC) guidelines. - Conduct a System Security Assessment and ensure the implementation of standard guideline that enhance security; - Conduct e-Log book user training for staffs at various levels including its stakeholders; - Handover the complete and updated system to BCPS including full ownership of the source code and all its related technical documentation that obtain through Operational acceptance of e-Logbook Platform; - Provide annual technical maintenance and support services for 36 months with in the budget.
