took away his camera and broke it and hit him with sticks and iron rods.

Suzon said there were allegations that Sultan abducted a woman five days ago, following which his wife tried to die by suicide by taking poison.

The reporters were talking to villagers about the allegations when Sultan, his father Azizar Mandal, who is the president of Panchagram Union AL, two brothers Shahed Mandal and Shahjahan Mandal, and their men approached the journalists and asked them not to report on people's "personal matters".

The men soon began to hurl abuse at the reporters and assaulted them, he added.

Contacted, Azizar denied assaulting the reporters and said he had tried to save them from being beaten up. "My sons will be punished if they had done anything wrong."

OC Ershadul said police were looking for the suspects and trying to recover the camera.

Matiar Rahman, general secretary of Lalmonirhat District AL, told reporters last night that Azizar will be expelled from the party if allegations of his involvement in this incident are found to be true.

A four-member committee has been formed by the district AL to look into the matter, he added.

Local journalist association leaders last night said they would demonstrate if the attackers are not arrested and the camera is not recovered in 24 hours.

examining, counting and measuring weight.

The office staff receiving the goods should give a certificate stating that they have received the goods after ensuring weight and quality. They will also give a certificate stating that the stock was registered properly.

In the audit report, CAG said it found no such register or accounts. "Purchasing of goods cannot be verified if the stock register is not preserved. Despite this fact, the field level offices of CAAB in Dhaka do not preserve any stock register."

CAG said CAAB did not give any reply about the anomalies in this case, adding that the local authorities did not come up with any reply as they did not have any proper answer.

In its recommendation for both cases, CAG suggested intensifying the internal control system and properly depositing money to funds of the concerned authorities.

In another instance of irregularity, CAG said CAAB showed a stock balance of Tk 16.38 crore through "imaginary" statements of different purchased equipment and mechanical parts.

CAG said the executive engineer, E/M division-1 and 2 of CAAB, showed through a work order that different machinery parts were purchased.

The auditing authority also said although CAAB replaced old machinery, it did not properly deal with the old equipment or preserved no stock register or list. "Therefore, it cannot be ascertained that the new equipment replaced [old equipment]."

CAAB did not give any reply about this objection, meaning that CAAB has accepted the anomalies, said CAG.

In the recommendation, CAG asked to preserve old equipment and verify the stock balance every year. It also recommended selling the old machinery.

In all three cases, CAG said the response of the civil aviation ministry secretary about anomalies was not proper and acceptable.

As part of the latest measures, CAG issued demi-official letters for all three cases in August 2018 to the secretary but he did not reply.

A s k e d , Iftekharuzzaman, executive director, Transparency International Bangladesh (TIB), said CAG has done its professional duty and not only identified specific instances of corruption but also made concrete recommendations.

"It is now incumbent upon CAAB to act accordingly and particularly recover the misappropriated public money to ensure accountability," he said.

Asked, CAAB Chairperson Air Vice Marshal M Mafidur Rahman told this correspondent that they are replying to CAG regularly.

"We are also holding meetings with CAG officials every month on different audit objections," he said. "In case of failure to settle any objections, those are sent to the Public Accounts Committee of parliament for settlement."

Besides, the CAAB boss said they also carry out internal audits in response to anomalies, like those identified in CAG's report.

"We will take action if anyone is found involved in irregularities," he said.

A story of unkept promises

Other demands, like Tk 1 crore compensation for Sazal and a government job for him, remain unfulfilled. Meanwhile, Sazal alleged that the university administration took away his only source of income, a canteen on the campus he used to run.

When asked about the situation, Yasmeen Haque said Zafar Iqbal were deeply embarrassed and saddened over the delay in fulfilling the demands.

"He [Zafar Iqbal] is repeatedly contacting with the 'high-ups', who assured us of fulfilling the students' demands. They keep assuring us, but we see no reflection of these assurances in their actions," Yasmeen said.

"The entire country saw these officials making public promises through us. How can they back away from that?" she asked.

However, an official of the University Grants Commission (UGC), seeking anonymity, said the president, also chancellor of the university, has returned the file sent to him regarding the removal of the VC.

Contacted, top officials of the Higher Education Division said they have not been informed of the issue, as they assumed office recently.

"Many demands like withdrawal of the cases and issues of the dormitories have been fulfilled. The removal of the vice chancellor depends on the president's decision. I cannot say anything about that," said UGC Secretary Dr Ferdous Zaman.

Although Ferdous claimed that the cases have been withdrawn, Nazmul Huda Khan, officer-in-charge of Jalalabad Police Station, said the cases are still ongoing and under investigation.

This correspondent could not reach VC Farid Uddin Ahmed over phone despite repeated attempts.

Russia's UN Ambassador Vassily Nebenzia said the world was being pushed "to the brink of nuclear catastrophe", comparable in scale with the 1986 Chernobyl disaster in then-Soviet Ukraine. He said IAEA officials could visit the site as soon as this month.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky demanded Russia return the plant to Ukraine's control.

the date of the judgment of the High Court Division till the date of order of stay [April 4 this year] passed by this Division [Appellate Division]," a three-member bench of the Appellate Division, headed by Chief Justice Hasan Foez Siddique, observed in its 16-page full text of the verdict which was released recently.

Two other judges of the bench are Justice Obaidul Hassan and Justice M Enayetur Rahim.

On May 29 this year, the apex court bench delivered a short judgement on the issue, scrapping the HC verdict that allowed Selim to extract the sand from the Meghna in Chandpur.

On that day, the apex court passed the short verdict following a leave to appeal petition filed by the state, seeking cancellation of the HC directive.

Following the writ petition filed by Selim, an HC bench on April 5, 2018, allowed him to extract sand in 21 mouzas under Chandpur Sadar and Haimchar upazilas, Deputy Attorney General Kazi Mynul Hassan told The Daily Star.

In the full text verdict, the Appellate Division observed that, "But the High Court Division making the Ain, 2010 [the Balumahal and Mati Babosthapona Ain, 2010] nugatory most illegally and arbitrarily leased out the mouzas in question to the writ petitioner for extracting sand. The High Court Division, in fact, had played the role of the lessor, which it cannot do.

"But in the instant case, the High Court Division has allowed the writ petitioner to extract sand for an indefinite period without fixing any tenure and royalty. Thus, we are constrained to hold that the High Court Division disposed of the writ petition beyond the scope of Article 102 of the Constitution of the People's Republic of Bangladesh."

The apex court judges said "...it is crystal clear that the deputy commissioner of the district concerned has been empowered to declare a certain area as Balu Mahal, subject to fulfilment of certain conditions with the approval of the divisional commissioner concerned.

"In the instant case, the alleged 'Dubochars' of the Meghna river bed under the mouzas in question have never been declared as Balu Mahal by the deputy commissioner concerned complying the provisions of relevant law."

The verdict said the HC cannot assume the power and jurisdiction of a particular authority conferred by a specific law/statute in exercising power under Article 102 of the country's constitution and thus, the HC cannot declare a particular area as Balu Mahal making a particular law, i.e. Ain 2010 nugatory or redundant.

Thus, in this particular case, the HC has travelled beyond its jurisdiction declaring the mouzas in question as Balu Mahal, it added.

From the impugned judgment it transpires that the High Court Division without taking consideration of the provision of section 9 of the Ain 2010 straightaway treated the Dubochars of Meghna river bed under mouzas in question as Balu Mahal and directed the writ-respondents-petitioners (state) to allow the writ petitioner to extract sand from the said mouzas, read the SC verdict.

"Having considered and discussed as above, we have no hesitation to hold that the High Court Division has committed serious error in passing the impugned judgment and order," the SC judges observed in the full text verdict.

The judges said, "It also surprises us that on behalf of the government, no affidavit-in-opposition was filed before the High Court Division to contest the Rule and the conduct of the law officers concerned are highly suspicious. The government officials concerned of Chandpur district administration slept over the matter for a long time. We express our dissatisfaction with the conduct of the government officials concerned of Chandpur district administration, who slept over the matter years together as well as the law officers who did not perform their duties property before the High Court Division."

said that Chinese loans led to the defaulting; rather the problem arose from sovereign debt, according to the rejoinder.

Mustafa Kamal in the interview made clear that any project in any country could be financed if it is proven financially viable through rigorous study, said the rejoinder carried by the FT.

The minister stressed that Bangladesh would never take on finance from any authority if it were not feasible. He was in no way warning about Chinese loans, the rejoinder said.

To be clear, Bangladesh owes approximately $4bn to China – a trifling amount compared with Bangladesh's gross domestic product of $416bn, and its external debt of $51bn (2021 figures), the rejoinder mentioned.

The FT report said "[Bangladesh] foreign reserves have also fallen to less than $40bn from more than $45bn a year ago".

The rejoinder said it should have been made clear that reserves stood at only $32.7bn in June 2019. By August 2021, they had risen 47 per cent to $48.1bn, the highest ever recorded in the history of Bangladesh.

Today, reserves stand at $40bn, enough for more than five months of import payments and beyond the risk threshold prescribed by the IMF, added the rejoinder.

Investigation finds promotions

The youth ministry probe committee found that some officers got the elevation though they faced departmental cases more than once and were even punished.

The committee also mentioned it appears that there might be financial transactions and corruption in giving the current charge.

In November last year, the department elevated the 112 officers from the list, called the "gradation list", of 1,175 AUYDO. However, 70 promotees were at the bottom of the list and superseded many having good service records throughout their careers.

The Daily Star published a report on it on December 10 last year.

Soon, the youth and sports ministry formed a probe committee after some aggrieved officers complained to the secretary of the public administration ministry alleging massive bribery against the former deputy director (admin) Mokhlesur.

The probe committee found that the officers were given current charges, ignoring the ministry's directive and in violation of the rules and regulations. It said a huge amount of money might change hands for the elevation.

An Administrative Tribunal in Dhaka in a judgement on July 25 said the order of current charge dated November 25, 2021, is grossly illegal as it had been issued in violation and bypassing the gradation list prepared on June 9 last year by the authorities.

WHAT THE PROBE FOUND

It appears that money may change hands and the officers were elevated ignoring the ministry's directive and in violation of the rules and regulations, said the probe committee.

Headed by Kazi Moshtaque Zahir, joint secretary of the ministry, the committee submitted its report to the secretary on May 12. This newspaper got to have a detailed look at the report.

It said DYD denied new posts to 70 AUYDOs though their position was among the top 112 officers in a list the department itself prepared based on officers' service tenure and records.

"As per information and evidence submitted to the committee by 10 aggrieved officers it appears that there might be financial transaction and corruption in giving the current charge," the report mentioned.

It said there appeared to have several suspected transactions made through the bank account of Farzana Razia, wife of Mosharraf Hossain Biswas who is among the officers elevated.

The report mentioned
