US targets 'Iran-backed militias' in Syria

AFP, Washington

President Joe Biden on Tuesday ordered air strikes in eastern Syria targeting facilities used by Iranianbacked militias, a US military spokesman said.

The strikes in oilrich Deir Ezzor province "targeted infrastructure facilities used by groups affiliated with Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Corps," Central Command spokesman (Centcom) Colonel Joe Buccino said.

Buccino said the strikes "precision intended to defend and protect US forces from attacks like the ones on August 15 against US personnel by Iran-backed groups," when a number of drones targeted an outpost of US-led anti-jihadist forces without causing any casualties.

Iran's foreign ministry yesterday denied any link with groups targeted by US air strikes in Syria.

'Shock and disbelief'

Adani group's bid for NDTV stokes media freedom worries

AGENCIES

An Indian billionaire close to Prime Minister Narendra Modi is trying to buy a broadcaster seen as the last major critical voice on television, stoking fears about media freedom in the world's largest democracy.

Under Modi, India has slipped 10 places in the Reporters Without Borders press freedom ranking to 150 out of 180.

Gautam Adani -- Asia's richest person, with interests ranging from Australian coal mines to India's busiest ports -- announced late Tuesday that his firm had indirectly acquired a 29-percent stake in NDTV and was bidding for a further 26 percent.

NDTV said that the move came "without any discussion" with the broadcaster.

Yesterday morning an employee at NDTV told AFP that there was a "general sense of shock and disbelief" in the newsroom following the announcement.

Geeta Seshu, founder of the Free Speech Collective, an independent organisation that advocates press freedom, said that while NDTV has been "struggling" commercially for some time, "the manner of this takeover is shocking, given the naked display of economic and political muscle".

The Adani group's closeness to the government was "hardly a secret", she added.

Self-made billionaire Adani, 60, this year overtook fellow Indian Mukesh Ambani to become Asia's richest man, with a net worth of $139 billion according to Forbes. Ambani's wealth and influence have also grown under Modi -- he now owns more than 70 media outlets. Hartosh Singh Bal, journalist at Caravan magazine -- a rare critical voice among print media said the takeover could bring the curtain down on "the only channel left that could be called partly independent".

The government influence on the media is growing. The control of what I call oligarchs -- the Adanis and the Ambanis -- is also growing and it will keep on growing," he told AFP. "This (takeover) means there is almost no independent media left and that shrinking space is extremely dangerous."

At the heart of Adani Group's two-stage plan to snap up a majority stake in NDTV is a littleknown Indian company called Vishvapradhan Commercial Private Limited (VCPL), founded in 2008. More than a decade ago, NDTV founders Radhika and Prannoy Roy took a 4 billion Indian rupees ($50 million) loan from VCPL, and in exchange issued warrants that allowed the company to acquire a 29.18% stake in the news group. Those warrants were convertible at any time. Adani Group said on Tuesday it had acquired VCPL and exercised those rights, which should give it the 29.18% stake.

Adani Group's indirect control over a stake above 25% means it must put forward an open offer to purchase at least 26% more from existing shareholders to give them an opportunity to exit, according to Indian regulations.

If the Adani Group deal succeeds, the founding duo will hold around 32% of NDTV, the internal memo stated. Although NDTV has said the move was without its consent, four lawyers who spoke to Reuters on Wednesday said that Adani Group is well within its legal rights in the deal process so far. NDTV, they said, has limited options.

Pakistan flood death toll crosses 800

REUTERS, Karachi

Pakistan has urged the international community to help with relief efforts as it struggles to cope with the aftermath of torrential rains that triggered massive floods last month, killing more than 800 people, officials said.

Funding reconstruction efforts will be a challenge for cashstrapped Pakistan, which is having to cut spending to ensure the International Monetary Fund approves the release of much-needed bailout money.

July's national rainfall was almost 200% above average, Sardar Sarfaraz, a senior weather official told Reuters yesterday, making it the wettest July since 1961.

According to the UN, floods have affected some 2.3 million people in Pakistan since mid-June, destroying at least 95,350 houses and damaging a further 224,100.

Sindh in the country's south east and Balochistan in the south west are the two most affected provinces. More than 504,000 livestock have been killed, nearly all of them in Balochistan, while damage to nearly 3,000 km of roads and 129 bridges has impeded movement around flood-affected areas.

RECORD HEATWAVE China fears 'severe threat' to harvest

AFP, Chongqing

China's autumn harvest is under "severe threat" from high temperatures and drought, authorities have warned, promising fresh steps to protect crops in the face of the country's hottest summer on record. The world's second-largest economy has been hit by record heat, flash floods and droughts this summer -- phenomena that scientists say are becoming more frequent and intense due to climate change. Southern China has recorded its longest continuous period of high temperatures since records began more than 60 years ago, the agriculture ministry said. Four government departments urged the conservation of "every unit of water" to protect crops. China produces more than 95 percent of the rice, wheat and maize it consumes, but a reduced harvest could mean increased demand for imports in the world's most populous country -- putting further pressure on global supplies already strained by the conflict in

Heatwave triggers 'false autumn' in UK

AFP, London

Searing summer temperatures in the UK have not just parched the earth and dried up rivers, lakes and reservoirs but are also seeing trees shed their leaves early. Instead of green, many gardens, parks and woods are now a sea of orange, yellow, red and brown, with thick carpets of leaves on the ground. The early leaf fall -- dubbed a "false autumn" -- is a sign of stress, as trees shed their leaves to try to retain moisture. Temperatures soared above 40 degrees Celsius for the first time in Britain in July, with the month the driest on record in many parts of southern and eastern England.

Rohingya return

NLD rule during which the 2017 military crackdown took place.

The government-in-exile also promised to support the Rohingya genocide case at the ICJ.

The US, the UK, Canada and European Union also have imposed various sanctions on Myanmar military officials following persecution Rohingyas in 2017 and the coup in 2021, but not so much on businesses.

Tawfique Prof M Haque, chair at the Department of Political Science and Sociology of North South University, said Myanmar has a history of tackling sanctions for many decades, especially with unconditional support from two UNSC members Russia and China. The UNSC has taken no concrete actions against Myanmar since the Rohingya crisis started to unfold. On the other hand, India and Japan, two close friends of Bangladesh, have major stakes in Myanmar and have been lenient towards the Southeast Asian country, though they want regional peace and stability and have provided humanitarian support to the Rohingyas. Despite these realities, Bangladesh is going ahead with its attempt to start Rohingya repatriation under a deal signed with Naypyidaw in November 2017. Myanmar also has a tripartité deal with UNHCR and UNDP on improving conditions in Rakhine State.

There is also a trilateral initiative under China mediated between Bangladesh and Myanmar but its two repatriation attempts totally failed – one on November 15, 2018 and the second on August 22, 2019.

After a pause since May 2019, Dhaka and Naypyidaw began meeting in January this year. The last Joint Working Group meeting was held in June. According to foreign ministry officials, Bangladesh handed over the names of 8.4 lakh Rohingyas to Myanmar but so far only about 42,000 have been verified. Dhaka proposed cluster-based repatriation -- making sure that all members of a Rohingya family and all of a village are repatriated together so that they feel secure. However, the officials observed that the list of verified Rohingyas provided by Myanmar misses some members of a family.

Some of the conditions for Rohingya return have been safety, guarantee of citizenship, freedom of movement, and sending them to their ancestral homes, not to internally displaced persons (IDP) camps.

The refugees say none of these conditions exist in Arakan, a region officially known as the Rakhine State, which has been home to Rohingyas for generations. Khin Maung said since the military coup, Myanmar people are realising what kind of persecution the Rohingya minorities have been facing for decades. However, they are still not in a position to recognise the Rohingyas as an ethnic group and guarantee equal importantly, "More despite a ceasefire between separatist Arakan Army and Burmese military, there are clashes going on in Arakan now.

Though the NUG is saying it would grant equal rights, there are doubts about this commitment, he said.

About 1.2 lakh Rohingyas are still in IDP camps since 2012 communal clash in Rakhine -- a reality which means there is no guarantee that the refugees will be sent to their homes after repatriation, he said.

Amin, a Rohingya youth in Hakimpara camp, said, "What is the point of going to a camp in Rakhine from the camp in Cox's Bazar?"

He also said Myanmar has not made any legal amendments that guarantee Rohingya citizenship.

Prof SK Tawfique M Haque said the repatriation in true sense is still a distant dream because Myanmar generals, who fundamentally control Myanmar's power, are grounded in their anti-Rohingya policy.

There is a possibility of large-scale repatriation if Myanmar military truly faces harsh actions after the verdict of ICJ and a civilian government takes office and dominate the power

But that's unlikely in near future and ICJ ruling takes years. "For facesaving, Myanmar military may arrange a token repatriation in near future," said Tawfique, also director at the South Asian Institute of Policy and Governance at

Meanwhile, there is also donor fatigue on the Rohingya crisis because of other emergencies including Ukraine refugee crisis, he said.

"While we should make continuous diplomatic efforts for repatriation and mobilise foreign funding, we should also think of how the Rohingyas, especially the youths can be engaged in productive activities."

Otherwise, the Rohingvas can become a national as well as regional security threat. "International and regional players also cannot avoid the responsibility," he
