

Fakhrul, BNP don't believe in country's independence Says info minister

BSS, Chattogram

Information Minister Hasan Mahmud yesterday said BNP Secretary General Mirza Fakhrul Islam, its leader Khaleda Zia and their party do not believe in the country's independence and sovereignty. Protesting the recent remarks of Fakhrul that "they were in good position during the Pakistani regime", the minister said anyone who believes in the country's independence, sovereignty, democracy and development cannot make such a comment as it goes against the spirit of the Liberation War.

The minister said this while responding to the queries of journalists on the current affairs at Chattogram Circuit House.

He said Awami League expects that all political parties will participate in the upcoming general elections. Hasan, also AL joint general secretary, said the BNP leaders admired the rule of Pakistani regime at a time when Bangladesh's achievements are being lauded by many nations.

The minister said Bangladesh surpassed Pakistan in all indicators including economic, social and human development in 2015.

High risks, little rewards

"Even though the hilsa season is in full swing now, we are running our business by borrowing and lending."

Another fisher, Amir Hossain, said, "If this continues, we will have to leave this profession for good."
Fazlu Gazi, owner of Gazi Fish, also local UP chairperson, said about 4,000 fishers have left their profession in the last five years. "If this continues, no one will be there to catch fish," he feared.

Although fuel prices were slashed slightly, the fishers say this won't mean much in the grand scheme of things.

Fisher Abdul Mannan said, "First, they [the government] increased diesel price by almost Tk 40. The so-called price reduction now is nothing but a poor joke."

All the fishers this correspondent talked to said they are now wondering if the risks they take to catch fish are actually worth it.

At least 25 fishing trawlers of Patuakhali drowned due to low pressure in the bay between August 13 and 18. During this time, around 370 fishers disappeared into the sea.

Later, fishers were rescued from different places.

Contacted, Patuakhali district fisheries officer SM Azharul Islam said, "The current crisis is due to the hike in fuel price. We are trying to find ways to compensate the fishers."

Election with EVMs can make anyone the winner."

"We have not announced to boycott the election... We will take a decision after observing the actual situation. We will take into consideration the interests of the country and people... then we will take a decision after a discussion in the party forum," he said.

Without mentioning the recent removal of opposition chief whip Moshir Rahman Ranga from all posts of JP, GM Quader said maintaining order is very important even in peaceful movements. "If someone wants to destroy the party hierarchy, no matter how big the leader is or how influential or rich they are, we will not spare anyone. We will work to protect the interests of the country and people by removing all conspiracies and conspirators."

Quader also said mega projects are going on in the country for mega corruption. No work is completed on time and within specified allocation. Every project is costing extra time and money.

Eight BNP men held police blamed the party men for provocation that led to the violence.

The incident took place on Thursday as AL activists attacked BNP men while they were preparing to hold a pre-scheduled rally on Mukul Fouz field at Mirpur-6. AL leaders and activists, wielding sticks, brought out a procession around the venue. They tried to chase the BNP men away, who retaliated by throwing brick chips.

Police fired rubber bullets and tear gas shells at the BNP activists.

On September 10, BNP announced to hold rallies in 16 locations of Dhaka until September 27, protesting price hike of commodities, fuel and transport fare, and the death of its activists during the recent protests in Bhola and Narayanganj.

PBI to probe case

Rahima remained missing for 17 days and police failed to find her, her younger daughter Aduri Akter appealed to the Khulna court to transfer the case to the PBI, said Rahima's elder daughter Mariyam Mannan.

The same day the court ordered police to hand over the case to the PBI, but the cops are yet to comply with the order, she told the news agency.

When asked, Nazrul Islam, officer-in-charge of Doulatpur Police Station, said, "We have received the order and the case document will be handed over when PBI asks for it."

So far, six people have been arrested in this case. They are Rahima's second husband Belal Howladar, Mohiuddin, Palash, Jewel, Helal Sharif, and assistant engineer at Khulna University of Engineering and Technology (Kuet) Golam Kibria.

As the case will now be investigated by the PBI, a remand appeal made by the police to interrogate Rahima's second husband Belal remains pending for hearing, said the OC.

Rahima's daughter Mariyam, in a Facebook post on Thursday, said they have been sticking "missing" posters in Khulna city in the hope they will get their mother back.

they said. Although one crore people across the country have come under the government family card, garment workers have been deprived, they added.

Addressing the event, the minister said at present, it has become really difficult to run a family with the salaries of the garment workers.

Arrangements will be made soon in consultation with the government to introduce a rationing system for garment workers, he said, while addressing the programme as chief guest.

Lawmaker Rashed Khan Menon, president of Workers Party, who inaugurated the event, said the garment workers are living an uncertain life in the post-Covid world, especially when prices of daily commodities have skyrocketed.

"The last wage board was fixed in 2018. A five percent increase in salaries was promised after three years following a re-evaluation. But it didn't happen. It's time to re-evaluate wages. The national minimum wage, which is stuck in the High Court, also needs to be implemented," he added.

Aminul Haque Amin, president of NGWF, presided over the event. He advocated for maternity leave and TCB family cards for garment workers.

Shamsun Nahar, member of the Parliamentary Standing Committee on the Ministry of Labour and Employment, and Zobaida Parvin, general secretary of Bangladesh National Women Lawyers' Association, also spoke at the event.

"We have only one demand from the college administration -- the hostel's problems should be resolved as soon as possible," he said.

Contacted, Prof Amena Begum, principal of Kabi Nazrul Government College, said, "We're going to renovate the hostel through the Education Engineering Department. They will visit the hostel next week."

"There's no specific information on how many students are staying there. The hostel students filed a petition seeking solutions to various problems. We'll do whatever is necessary to facilitate their accommodation. Besides, we will also make arrangements to repair it, keeping its tradition," she added.
