General of the UN Department of Peace Operations, Jean-Pierre Lacroix, Momen said Bangladesh has always played a leading role in the UN's peace operations and will continue to do this.

He mentioned that Bangladesh is ready to provide Quick Reaction Force, Base Defense Contingent, Infantry Contingent, and Police Contingent in the future. He also called for appointing senior military and civilian officers at the leading level, especially force commanders.

Momen also reiterated Bangladesh's commitment to increase the number of women peacekeepers.

Lacroix praised the Bangladeshi peacekeepers for their dutifulness, responsibility, and professional skills in the UN Peace Operations.

Fakhrul Islam Alamgir's remarks that "AL would not get even 30 seats in the next polls", Quader questioned whether the BNP secretary general is an astrologist.

"BNP is the leader of vote rigging. Therefore, it is opposing EVM to clear the way for vote forgery in the polls," Quader said.

It is BNP's internal issue whether the party would participate in the polls, he said, adding that AL wants BNP to take part in the elections, but it's unnecessary to bring anyone in polls forcibly.

said, expressing his frustration after knowing about the extent of the punishment for such a grave offence.

"Then I asked, 'Where is my compensation?' The official advised me to file a case with the court," he said.

After Rajib sent a letter to National Human Rights Commission (NHRC), the commission on December 21, 2020 requested the home ministry and PHQ to take action against the officers.

So far, NHRC asked the home ministry five times to submit the departmental probe report of police.

But till date, law enforcers have not submitted any report to the commission.

NHRC termed it "unfortunate" in a letter issued on August 19.

"NHRC thinks such actions by the public security division of the home ministry prevent victims from seeking justice," the letter mentioned.

Recently, at a virtual hearing, Shafiqul Islam, senior assistant secretary at the home ministry, informed that they decided to form a separate cell to resolve these allegations.

After filing of the case, the court formed a probe body comprising three doctors of Sir Salimullah Medical College Hospital. On May 18, the committee submitted its report.

According to the report, there is evidence in the hospital's register book that Rajib was tortured and got treated there on February 11, 2019.

The hospital issued an injury certificate on that day. According to the document, Rajib had injuries in his upper and lower lips, right index and ring fingers, and had blunt trauma on his back and both arms.

After Rajib filed the case with a Dhaka court, he received phone calls from three people, introducing themselves as police officers, and threatened him to withdraw the case, Rajib claimed.

Contacted, SI Mizan hung up the call when this correspondent asked about the incident. He did not receive calls after that.

SI Jalil did not receive calls at all, while ASI Farid's phone was found switched off.

Kutubur Rahman Chowdhury, additional superintendent of police (Dhaka Metro-North) at Police Bureau of Investigation, who is now investigating the case, told The Daily Star that they are collecting witnesses' statements and medical reports.

He added that he is yet to talk to the officers.

"If I knew that I have to go through so much hassle after filing a case against police officers, I wouldn't have done it," Rajib said in a frustrated tone.

He now fears what the future has in store for him.

Shohidul Amin, Keraniganj upazila agriculture officer, said they had handed over the factory's keys to the local police outpost. "As per our documents, the factory is sealed off and its operation remains suspended."

Keraniganj Model Police Station OC Mamun ur Rashid Mamun suggested talking to Kalatia police outpost, where the keys are kept. The outpost's in-charge Sahidul Islam said he knew nothing about such keys. Meanwhile, the Savar factory is officially closed, but reportedly not in reality.

Contacted, Naziat Ahmed, Savar upazila agriculture officer, said they raided the Savar factory last year and ordered it be shut down, because it was producing substandard fertiliser.

"Moreover, we recommended our higher authorities to cancel the factory's licence," he said.

This correspondent also visited the factory in Savar. Locals claimed that the factory is running, though Saidur claimed that it remains closed.

banks on both sides and established commercial establishments. They are among over 200 influential people who did the same. They are receiving a huge profit from these business centres, while the canal is slowly dying, said locals.

Contacted, one of the alleged grabbers, Moti Member, said, "I own a piece of land near the canal and I am operating my business there. There's nothing illegal about it."

The rest of the alleged encroachers refused to comment on the matter.

Garbage and human waste are constantly dumped into the canal from residential buildings and nearby shops. As a result of pollution, people of the area are now unable to use the water of this canal, said Altaf Hossain, a local resident.

Many residents echoed the same. They said they were too afraid to speak out against the grabbers.

Contacted, Amtali UNO Sadiq Tanveer said, "Legal action will be taken against those who have illegally occupied the canal and built commercial establishments and houses.

the country," he said.

He was talking to reporters after visiting JP leader Shafiqul Islam of Mathbaria Upazila, Pirojpur, who is receiving treatment at the Dhaka Medical College Hospital.

JP claimed that ruling Awami League men carried out the attack on Shafiqul on Friday while he was on his way to appear before a court.

GM Quader said, "The ruling party men and the law enforcement agencies are creating obstacles while we are carrying out political activities."

"We want to hold meetings and express our views peacefully. How can there be normalcy in the country if we are prevented from doing this?"

mini gonorooms, struggling. This finally led him to demand at least a seat and studying table for all.

Siam started his demonstration on September 18. As the campus is currently closed, he has paused his movement for the time being but promised to continue the fight. On the first day, he stood at busy areas of the campus with a banner in hand. "I stood at Shaheed Minar, the transport yard, TSC, and the registrar's office."

"The second day, I stood in front of our administrative building, and the VC noticed me. He said nothing and went away. Proctor ASM Firoz Ul Hasan approached me that day but said nothing satisfactory," he recalled.

After that day, the hall provost of Siam's allocated dorm called him. Later, the two met, and Siam got assurance of getting a seat for himself, he said.

"But my fight is not for ensuring a seat for myself; it is for every student," Siam explained.

Amartya Ray, general secretary of Chhatra Union's JU unit, said,

"This must not continue. The idea of a residential university has become a myth. A student should get proper accommodation on their very first day."

"Moreover, a VC needs to be more understanding. A student, demonstrating for nine days, doesn't deserve such treatment just to meet the VC," Amartya said.

Sukalyan Kumar Kundu, provost of Shaheed Salam-Barkat Hall, the one Siam belongs to, said, "I can't deny that there is political influence in dorms to allocate seats. I talked to Siam and assured him of meeting his demands."

Abdullah Hel Kafi, president of the hall provost committee, said, "We have limitations, but soon, we are going to inaugurate six new dorms. I think this will resolve the problems."

This correspondent phoned VC Prof Nurul Alam several times, but he did not pick up the calls.

Parishad. In the capital, the main puja mandaps are at Dhakeshwari National Temple, Ramkrishna Mission and Math, Ramna Kali Mandir, Shakhari Bazar and Banani.

The mandaps have been decorated with colourful lights, artificial flowers, festoons, banners and paintings, with colourful arches at the entrance of a number of them welcoming devotees and guests.

Meanwhile, security measures have been beefed up at temples and mandaps with the deployment of additional squads of Ansar, police, Rapid Action Battalion and other law enforcement agencies for peaceful celebration of the festival.

Possibilities aplenty

However, some experts are skeptical as they believe the service has been launched without any survey, and, speedboat movement may be disrupted due to solid industrial waste in the Turag river.

Mohammad Azaz, chairman of the River and Delta Research Center (RDRC), said, "We've always wanted Dhaka Circular Waterway to remain active, but it wasn't possible due to the lack of sincerity of authorities concerned."

"This time, when private investment came into this sector for the first time, the same situation was seen. Speedboats were launched without any survey," he added.

"Turag's water-level will go down during the dry season. In that time, it will be difficult for boats to ply due to industrial pollution. Tongi canal should be excavated to facilitate movements in the waterway," he added.

Regarding the waterways' pollution, Mia Bhai said, "BIWTA told us that regular dredging will be done to maintain the river's navigability. If BIWTA cooperates, more investors will come forward. And if my company cuts a loss due to the authority's negligence, private investors will be discouraged."

Regarding speedboat service, State Minister for Shipping, Khalid Mahmud Chowdhury, said this service has already become popular among people. Every day 1,000 people are traveling on this waterway."

He added, "We've undertaken the dredging project there for the dry season. Hopefully there won't be a problem."

In 1999, taking into account the movement convenience of the capital's residents, the initiative was taken to launch the first circular waterway (Buriganga, Shitalakkhya, Turag and Balu rivers).

In December 2004, the work on the Sadarghat-Ashulia river route was completed. In the second phase, the work on the 40-km long waterway from Ashulia to Tongi was expected to be completed by 2012, but the deadline had to be extended several times.

When the waterway was opened for vessels in full swing, it never achieved anything close to its potential because of multiple factors, which include -- river filling, navigation crisis and lack of maintenance.
