Anchored by Major Abdus Salam, several course members, including Mahfuz Anam, editor and publisher of The Daily Star; MP Motahar Hossain; Maj Gen Jiban Kanai Das; former ambassador Maj Ashraf ud Doula; and Lt Col Mudassar Hossain Khan, addressed the gathering.

Two members of the First War Course – Maj Abdul Matin Chowdhury and Lt Col Abdur Rouf, chief patron and president of Bangladesh War Courses Foundation, respectively – also spoke on the occasion.

Chief of Army Staff General Shafiqul Islam, who attended the programme as special guest, and Maj Hafiz Uddin Ahmed, former minister and one of the former training instructors in Dhaka, also addressed the event.

President Abdul Hamid, chief guest of the programme, sent his congratulatory message.

successes and ask the counterparts how they can help others, said Prof Saleem.

"Bangladesh can become a knowledge broker. This will, however, require for the country to invest in capacity building of its people and officials, especially on adaptation," he added.

State Minister for Planning Dr Shamsul Alam said even a degree Celsius of increase in the temperature can cause rice production to decline up to 9 percent and displace at least 40 million people on the Southern coast.

"Besides, the variability of rainfall, the highest level of drought and floods are affecting the lives and livelihood of the country's people. Despite devastating consequences, Bangladesh, with its limited resources, is trying to develop flood protection embankments, housing for the poor and various adaptation technologies," said Shamsul.

"Climate change has now become a security issue and global leaders must support the vulnerable countries with funds and technology," he added.

International Centre for Climate Change and Development (ICCCAD) Deputy Director Prof Mizan R Khan said as the industrialised countries responsible for climate change are not compensating for the loss and damage, the poor are getting poorer and climate justice remains a far cry.

The developed countries promised to jointly mobilise $100 billion a year by 2020 to address the needs of developing countries. However, the target is largely unmet. Overseas development assistance is being repackaged in the name of climate financing, he said.

Prof Mizan also said climate-related displacement must get a prominent place in global negotiations.

"There are two solutions to climate-induced displacement – developing climate migrant-friendly townships and skill development of the affected families for their relocation in developed countries," he said.

BISS Chairman Kazi Intiaz Hossain, acting Director General Col MA Saadi, Senior Research Fellow Dr Sufia Khanom, UNDP Programme Specialist Arif M Faisal and Department of Environment Director Mirza Shawkat Ali, among others, spoke at the event moderated by former foreign secretary Shamsheer Mobin Chowdhury.

IGP'S PRESS CONFERENCE
Later in the day, the IGP said police, under the EC, have been performing their job in a professional and neutral manner during elections. He made the remarks at his maiden press conference at PHQ.

"We will give the highest importance to providing proper services at police stations, as the image of police depends on the services of these establishments," he said.

Replying to a query on reforms of Rab, as suggested by the US ambassador to Bangladesh, and lifting of US sanctions, the IGP said reforming any organisation is a continuous process.

Asked about the 50 youths who reportedly left home for "hijrah", he said they are looking into the matter but declined to give details.

Rajesh Pandit, a Hindu priest of the Patrokhol tea garden temple, said the people of Patrokhol share a non-communal spirit. Anwar Hossain, manager of the tea garden, said the cemetery was not made this way for a shortage of land but was rather designed to promote and teach religious harmony.

"I participate in any festival [of Hindus, Muslims and Christians]. I want this spirit to be upheld in the future," said Patakhol tea garden Jame Mosque Imam Md Abdul Aziz.

Setu Rema, pastor of the Baptist Church in the area, said this cemetery was a rare and inspiring example for the rest of the world to follow.

Mir Nahid Ahsan, deputy commissioner in Moulvibazar, said religion is for individuals but this cemetery is for all.

They will also have to conduct intensive control operations in those areas to kill mosquitoes and build public awareness.

The public should also take personal measures to protect themselves by using mosquito repellent and wearing clothes that cover arms, he said.

As a long-term plan, Saifur suggested the government municipalities and district authorities properly.

"Implementing the Sustainable Integrated Vector Management System under the central government is essential to control Aedes mosquitoes," he said.

Last month, Dhaka North City Corporation

Chief Health Officer Brig Gen Md Zobaidur Rahman said apart from regular and special drives, they have purchased 30 boats to clean waterbodies and use insecticides properly.

Md Abu Nasher, public relations officer of Dhaka South City Corporation, said besides routine drives, they are taking different measures to control Aedes mosquitoes, including drives around houses of dengue patients.

Dr Md Ekramul Haque, deputy programme manager of malaria and ATD control programme at DGHS, said they have already sent dengue diagnosing kits to every upazila and asked all hospital authorities to arrange separate wards for patients if necessary.

A monsoon survey of DGHS, conducted between August 11 and 23, found the presence of Aedes mosquitoes in 13.4 percent of houses under DNCC and 11.75 percent of homes under DSSC.

Meanwhile, parents were seen tending to their children's demands for balloons and toys.

Another visitor Dilip Shankar, who came to celebrate with his wife and their toddlers, were seen sitting at the lawn while their children ran around.

"We are planning to visit the Banani mandap depending on whether the kids have the stamina," said the smiling father of two.

Amidst all the festivities, tight security measures were taken at almost every puja mandap. Along with the police, Rab and Ansar forces were also engaged in ensuring security at the sites.

Today, with the commencement of Bijaya Dashami, the five-day Durga Puja will end with the "Bishorjon", where devotees will immerse their Goddess in the Buriganga.
