activity of Plan International.

Every year, Plan International takes this initiative all over the world, marking International Day of Girls on October 11, under its "Girls Get Equal" campaign calling for increased investment in girls' power, activism and leadership.

Marking 10 years of the programme, more than 40 girls symbolically took over the leading positions within politics, governance, diplomacy, business etc, to promote equality, freedom, and representation for girls and young women.

Norwegian Ambassador to Bangladesh Espen Rikter

Svendsen said, "To end the discrimination of girls, we must focus on their agency, leadership, and ideas. The International Day of the Girl reminds us about the commitment to lift up women and girls, and build a society where they are empowered – nothing should hinder girls from fulfilling their potential."

detectives traced the gang and arrested its members from Dhaka, Sunamganj, and Mymensingh during a three-day special drive, which started on October 6, Junaid Alam Sharker, additional deputy commissioner of DB, told The Daily Star.

Analysing last six months' bank statements, detectives found transactions amounting to Tk 32.41 lakh in Ekram's account, Tk 39.43 lakh in Jahidul's, Tk 57.80 lakh in Abbas', and Tk 5.13 lakh in Sanowar's.

Detectives said the gang would post advertisements on social media and messaging apps about providing NIDs, birth certificates, and Covid-19 certificates within a day.

In the advertisement, the gang used to mention that it is capable of changing the name on birth certificates issued from any union parishad across the country for only Tk 600.

Sanowar's job was to provide individuals' information after going through the NID server. He used to charge only Tk 15 for an individual's details, say investigators.

Ekram, who could access the Surokha server, was responsible for changing and updating people's vaccination status. Jahidul used to collect information from Sanowar and provide it to Ekram for modifying vaccine details. Abbas is responsible for providing certificates after collecting payment, investigators added.

ADC Junaid said they are now working to trace another gang member.

The arrestees have been involved in these activities for the last two years, he said. "We are trying to ascertain how much money they embezzled so far."

Generally, an individual has to file a general diary and pay Tk 200 government-fee to get a copy of a lost NID card legally, but the gang provides it for just Tk 100, he mentioned.

"We are now checking how a gang member got an admin's username and password for a government site like Surokha. We are also looking into whether any health directorate or NID official is linked with the gang," said ADC Junaid.

Contacted, NM Zeaul Alam, senior secretary of the information and communication technology division, yesterday told The Daily Star, "We have learned about this matter. We have provided a bunch of admin usernames and passwords to officials of the health directorate for investigation."

"We are investigating the matter. Everything will be cleared after the investigation ends," said Zeaul, whose division made the Surokha app.

of which overlap each other, in the capital and adjacent areas, along with several hundred BRTC buses.

Most of the private buses operate on a "trip basis" – a system where bus owners receive a certain amount of money for each trip from the drivers, who often engaged in unhealthy competition to pick up more passengers.

This mentality among bus drivers is a major reason behind road crashes and traffic congestion in the city.

In the given situation, transport experts recommended for rationalising the bus routes and bringing all public buses under a fixed number of companies for better regulation.

Late DNCC Mayor Annisul Huq had taken initiative in this regard, which did not see light due to his demise. Later, the government in September 2018, formed a committee led by DSCC mayor in the chair to introduce the system and rationalise the route.

To introduce the system, the authorities preliminarily decided to introduce nine cluster under different colour and bring all the buses under 22 companies and all routes under 42 routes.

As per the decision, 54 existing routes would be brought under eight routes (from Route 21 to 28) under "Green Cluster". On December 26 last year, the new system was launched with 50 buses – 20 from Trans Silva, a private bus operator and 30 double-decker buses from BRTC on a pilot basis.

But the services can't provide expected service to passengers, who often alleged that the buses pick up and drop off passengers randomly instead of dedicated stations.

On the other hand, operators alleged that the only dedicated buses should be operated on the route. But many buses without route permit operate on the routes due to poor monitoring by the authorities.

A BRTC official said the service isn't profitable for them as they have to provide all expenses for ticketing and station services and 35 percent of the daily income to the private bus operators.

An official of Dhaka Transport Coordination Authority (DTCA), which is providing secretariat service to the bus rationalisation committee, said non-cooperation from the bus owners is the main reasons behind the struggle of their piloting service.

"We are trying to make the initiative successful, taking all stakeholders on board," he said.

He said among the 54 routes, 34 are inside the city and they are expecting to launch buses in all 34 routes within 2024.

He also said they will form a company after introducing buses in all routes of the green cluster within next year.

The Daily Star couldn't contact Shabiha Parvin, executive director of DTCA, over phone for comments.

any assistance from the government to repair the school building.

Contacted, Samir Kumar Chakraborty, the school's headteacher, said the attendance of students is decreasing day by day.

He also demanded the government take immediate measures to repair the school building.

The primary school, which is located at Singor village of Bagerhat's Morrelganj upazila, was established in 1949.

Since then, the school's academic activities were going on in a tin-shed building, which was replaced by a concrete building with four classrooms in 1995.

Contacted, Jalal Uddin Khan, the upazila education officer, said, "We have already taken a decision to construct a tin-shed building on the school premises. Later, we will reconstruct the concrete building in phases, once the funds are allocated."

However, due to the pandemic, the largest annual Muslim congregation was held on a limited scale in the last two years.

Around 60,100 Bangladeshis performed hajj this year.

The hajj was held on July 8.

Al-Rabiah said there is no quota or ceiling for the number of umrah visas to be issued for Muslims all over the world.

"Any Muslim coming to the Kingdom with any type of visa can perform umrah," he said.

Besides, Al-Rabiah affirmed Saudi Arabia's keenness on reducing the costs of performing hajj and umrah, saying that the matter is related to a number of factors.
