

STAR HEALTH REPORT

Traditionally, babies below the 10th percentile were believed to be at risk for developmental concerns. But the new study found a greater number of babies within the 10th to 24th percentile range of birthweights with these issues, simply because there are a larger number of babies within that population.

BRIG GEN (RETD) PROFESSOR MD
TANVIRUL ISLAM

Many methods have focused on curing hemorrhoids including rubber band ligation, sclerotherapy, cryosurgery, laser photocoagulation, and stapled hemorrhoidopexy, doppler-guided artery ligation, depending on the severity of the disease.

The writer is a Professor of Surgery at Universal Medical College & Hospital.

DR RUBAIUL MURSHED

Although physical touch shows a genuine form of care and concern, it is not always welcomed due to some misconduct. Nevertheless, we need to explore more how doctors can consciously use their interest in humanity and the power of caring in their clinical work.

E-mail: rubaiulmurshed@shomman.org

STAR HEALTH DESK

COVID-19 triggered a 25% increase in general anxiety and depression worldwide, exposing how unprepared governments were for its impact on mental health, and revealing a chronic global shortage of mental health resources. In 2020, governments worldwide spent an average of just 2% of health budgets on mental health, with lower-middle income countries investing less than 1%.

The advertisement is set against a light grey background. In the top right corner, there are three circular logos: 'WORLD SPINE DAY' with a spine icon, 'WORLD TRAUMA DAY October 11' with a cross icon, and 'WORLD ORTHOPEDICS DAY November' with a bone icon. The main title 'Bone, Joint & Trauma Week' is written in a bold, teal font at the top left. The central graphic shows an elderly man with glasses sitting in a blue wheelchair, wearing a white patterned shirt and white trousers. He is looking towards a young boy who is riding a green bicycle. Another elderly man, also with glasses and wearing a blue patterned kurta, stands behind the boy, holding the handlebars to assist him. The word 'Rise' is written in a large, elegant, teal script font, with 'YOU WILL' in orange block letters to its left and 'AGAIN' in orange block letters below it. To the right of the image, a paragraph of text reads: 'Your prompt action in the face of trauma and bone diseases can help you retain your full strength. Our best facilities and doctors are ready to serve you efficiently and effectively.' At the bottom right, the appointment number is displayed: 'Appointment 02 22 22 62 486 10666'. The footer contains four logos: 'UNITED HEALTHCARE' (a stylized 'U'), 'United Healthcare brands' (text), 'United Hospital' (a circular logo with a crescent and star), and 'medix chennai' (a logo with two vertical bars). On the far right of the footer is the 'M A Rashid Hospital' logo, which features a sun-like emblem.