

Men's wristlets: A guide to the best wrist accessories money can buy

Men's fashion can be a complicated affair. It is often hard to find the right accessory that strikes the perfect balance between both sophistication and simplicity. One accessory that can strike that hallowed balance is the humble wristlet. When it comes to wristlets, there's a multitude of styles one can choose. Needless to say, there are specific wristlet shops that will cater to your preferred style. With that being said, here is everything you need to know about when buying a wrist accessory.

THE CASUAL CHOICE

Arguably, the most common type of wrist accessories are the ones made from synthetic rubber or latex. In most cases, these wristbands only have quotations engraved on them or some kind of simplistic design. The designs are based on recent fads or trends so you are more likely to find wristbands that have the title of a popular TV show, football club logo, or superhero motif.

Wristbands House Ltd has one of the biggest selections of such wristbands and also offer online delivery. They are simple, colourful and rather resilient. However, the issue is not with durability but with the bland designs these wristbands usually have.

While most of their wristbands are of a more simplistic design, they also offer some unique options like glow in the dark wristbands. A solid choice if you want to go for a casual but zero risk approach to your style.

SMOOTH OPERATOR

If you are looking to buy something a little fancier, then look no further than Bracelance Bangladesh. This online store has one of the most well-designed bracelets and wrist accessories in the market.

Many of their wristbands and bracelets are made of leather or lacquered wood and have a far more sophisticated feel to them. But these wrist accessories are also comparatively more expensive than the rubber ones.

They are also not as elastic or resilient, but they are far more appropriate for a formal event. Bracelance Bangladesh also sell bead bracelets and watches. Their designs are quite unique and attractive. If you are interested to buy a gift for a male companion but you do not want to break the bank, then Bracelance might just be perfect for you.

THE BEST A MAN CAN GET

When it comes to the luxury line of wrist accessories, it's hard to find a store as good as Cluf. This online store offers a plethora of men's wrist accessories, all at a reasonable price. The wristlets are of a more sophisticated and high fashion aesthetic, and the prices reflect that. Most of the wristlets sold are made of high-quality leather, while some are silver or even gold plated.

Wristlets made from precious metals usually match well with formal wear and are often worn alongside an elegant timepiece. The store also sells other fashion accessories like necklaces, sunglasses, rings, and brooch pins.

DISTINCTION IS KEY

If simplicity or elegance is not what you are after, then here is a third option: distinction. A wristlet that is not simply a fashion choice but also an expression of what you enjoy as an individual. Fansthetic, an online store offers a wide range of merchandise and fashion accessories. Their wristlets have designs based off of popular TV shows, anime, and even fictional characters like Sherlock Holmes and Wonder Woman.

Regardless of what style you prefer, always make sure that your current outfit matches the design of your wristlet. Fashion is not about wearing expensive accessories or fabrics; it is about ensuring every component of your attire is in perfect sync with each other.

Wristlets have proven time and again to be one of the more elegant and yet subtle ways to make a fashion statement. While it may be daunting to just slap one on, you will find that with time, wristlets can become the perfect addition to any man's wardrobe.

By Fahim Ahmed Aurko

Photo: LS Archve/Sazzad Ibne Sayed