CASE AGAINST ZUBAIDA Court to decide on Nov 1 whether to accept charges

COURT CORRESPONDENT

A Dhaka court yesterday fixed November 1 to decide whether it will accept the charges against Zubaida Rahman, wife of BNP acting chairman Tarique Rahman, in a corruption case filed by the Anti-Corruption Commission (ACC).

Judge (in charge) Syeda Hafsa Jhuma of Dhaka Metropolitan Senior Special Judge's Court set the new date after ACC Public Prosecutor Mosharrar Hossain Kajol sought time.

The same court on October 13 fixed October 17 for passing an order. On June 25, the High Court declared Tarique and Zubaida "fugitives" and rejected their petitions challenging filing and initiation of a Tk 4.82 crore corruption case.

On September 26, 2007, the anti-graft body filed the case with Kafrul Police Station against Tarique, his wife Zubaida and her mother Syeda Iqbal Mand Banu for amassing assets worth Tk 4.82 crore through illegal means and concealing information of Tk 2.16 crore in their wealth statements.

However, as a civil society organisation, ALRD prepared a shadow report highlighting the issue and submitted it to the UN committee concerned, he said.

Baira also urged the Saudi government to stop passports and visa processing of workers through a private organisation named "Shapla Center", to stop "syndication" in the labour market, the report says.

Following this, a Baira delegation held a meeting with the Saudi ambassador at the latter's office on Sunday, Noman said.

At the meeting, the delegation was assured that they would be able to submit passports to the embassy, he added.

"When our team reaches one point of the river, fishers run away with their engine boat to another area. We have no speed boat or hi-speed water transport. Besides, we don't get enough help from the law enforcers," he alleged.

Meanwhile, some

"If you can gather a large crowd and have huge popularity, then why do you have to resort to vote robbery in the dead of night?" Rizvi said.

The BNP leader also said that Quader's comment about holding a rally of 30 lakh people is nothing but a joke.

Rizvi urged the government to step down by handing over power to a non-party-neutral government to avert a mass upsurge in the coming days.

He also came down heavily on Information Minister Hasan Mahmud for making "bizarre" and "reckless" comments about BNP and its programmes.

politics of ballot and respects people's trust.

Quader said if the people of the country want, Awami League will form the government again.

He said according to the constitution, the next national election will be held like in other democratic countries of the world. If politics is for the people, BNP should come to the election.

He also said if he (Quader) has to resign then Mirza Fakhrul should be the first to resign due to continuous failure in the movement and elections. "Mirza Fakhrul has been holding the post of secretary general of the party for many years without any council. Fakhrul may not even know when the general meeting of BNP was held," he said.
